Districts Discuss Jointure

MOUNT POCONO—School directors from six districts talked jointure at the school here last night then set Wednesday, July 27 as the date for their next meeting on the subject.

The board members also heard discussions of school problems from two recognized school experts—one Federal and the other State.

Three Not Represented

Districts represented at the meeting were Mount Pocono borough, Coolbaugh, Tobyhanna, Paradise, Barrett, Pocono Townships. Not represented at the meeting, but supposedly part of the State-recommended and county-endorsed nine-district jointure were Jackson and Tunkhannock Townships in Monroe and Buck Township in Luzerne County.

First of the two main speakers was Dr. Donald DeHart of the U. S. Office of Education who began his discussion by saying that "education is one of the foremost problems we face today."

Education is "constitutionally a State responsibility," DeHart went on, pointing out that each State (Federal) operate within the framework of State law where schools are concerned.

DeHart's remarks were of specific interest to the group now considering jointure: several of the districts now have enlarged school enrollments due to "federally-connected children" such as the children of adults employed at Tobyhanna depot in their schools.

Dr. Cleaver Speaks

One of the districts—Coolbaugh Township—has already received approval for a Federal aid grant which is to be held in reserve for the district until its plans are drawn up. At last night's meeting, DeHart pointed out that such grants given to one district could be applied to a building program for the jointure if such an agreement was worked out.

Tanker Plane Catches Fire; 10 Men Die

MERCED, Calif., July 13 (AP)—A big "tanker" plane for jet refueling caught fire in the air today and plunged its 10-man crew to their deaths.

The four-engine plane fell from about 1,500 feet shortly after it left Castle Air Force Base near here.

The name of one of the victims, a foreign national exchange student, was withheld pending the notification of his next of kin.

The crash occurred at 6:32 a.m. as the tanker, a military version of the Stratocruiser, was taking off on a routine refueling mission. It was to have met a flight of bombers for a refueling test, but one of its engines suddenly dropped off.

Crashes, Explodes

A rancher saw the engine fall and said flames then shot along the fuselage and the plane veered earthward. It crashed on the G.O. Lee ranch north of the Merced River and exploded. The flames set a barley field afire.

The heavy explosion shook houses in Modesto, 28 miles away. Residents of El Capitán and Cressey, about five miles from the crash, said it felt like an earthquake.

The plane dug a crater 50 feet wide and 15 feet deep and a section of the tail assembly was the only part not torn into small pieces.

The tanker plane was a KC-97, 117 feet long, with a 141-foot wing spread. Such planes can carry more than 6,000 gallons of jet fuel.

Folsom Succeeds Mrs. Hobby In Cabinet Post; Developed Social Security System

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—In a ceremony heavy with emotion, Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby resigned today as secretary of health, education and welfare.

The resignation, which is effective Aug. 1, had been expected but the staging of her announcement of departure and the warm words which passed between her and President Eisenhower made a dramatic scene.

To succeed her, the President named Marion B. Folsom, a Georgia-born, Harvard-educated executive who is known as a social-minded businessman. He helped draft the pattern of the nation's social security system from a plan he developed in 1928.

Folsom, a Republican who is now undersecretary of the treasury, said he would like to see social security extended to cover more people, principally the self-employed and professional people.

H. Chapman Rose of Cleveland, an assistant secretary of the Treasury, was reported in line to move up to Folsom's post as undersecretary of the Treasury. Rose, 48, is a lawyer.

Personal Reasons
Mrs. Hobby has been under fire because of the failure of the polio

GI Benefits Law Revised

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—The House voted today for a sweeping overhaul of government payments to survivors of servicemen.

The complicated bill, one of the measures President Eisenhower wants enacted this session, won House passage without change despite cries that it would set up "a caste system for widows" by basing their survivor payments for the first time on their husband's rank.

Final passage came on a voice vote.

The measure now goes to the Senate which has not held hearings yet on the bill.

Measure Explained
The Pentagon-backed measure would do away with the present $10,000 free life insurance for GIs and with Federal Employment Compensation Act coverage that gives bigger benefits to reservists than to regular armed forces members.

Instead, all members of the armed forces would be brought under the Social Security System and Veterans Administration payments to their survivors would be increased along a sliding scale.

The legislation is aimed at giving an added incentive for a career military service and streamlining the present hodgepodge of payments for servicemen's survivors.

Anybody now getting payments could choose whether to stay under the old system or go under the new.

The new "package" arrangement is expected to cost the government more than the present systems to start with, but less after a number of years.

Armstrong Reveals Adams Sought Suspension Of Dixon-Yates Hearing Conducted By SEC

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—J. Sinclair Armstrong, chairman of the Securities & Exchange Commission, disclosed today it was the White House which asked for suspension of SEC hearings on the Dixon-Yates contract at a critical point last month.

After refusing to discuss the subject at all yesterday, Armstrong changed his tactics today and told a Senate subcommittee the request for a suspension came from Sherman Adams, President Eisenhower's right hand man.

The SEC chief refused to talk about it yesterday on the ground that a presidential directive bans any disclosure of confidential communications between executive departments of the government. Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.), subcommittee chairman, warned him he might be cited for contempt.

Today, however, Armstrong said he had been advised by Atty. Gen. Brownell that he could testify about whether any suggestions for suspension of the hearings were made.

Pressed By Kefauver

He did that, and then balked again when Kefauver pressed him about any other matters discussed in his telephone conversation with Adams. Again he claimed the privilege of silence under the presidential order.

Kefauver has implied that the SEC hearings, dealing with plans of the Dixon-Yates interests to finance a private power plant at West Memphis, Ark., were held

State House Sets July 26 For Tax Vote

HARRISBURG, July 13 (AP)—The House Administration today fixed Tuesday, July 26, for a House vote on the classified income tax and made public its blueprint for action on the entire proposed tax program.

If plans outlined by Rep. Albert S. Readinger, House Democratic leader, work out, the vote will come three months to the day after the controversial one to six percent levy reached the Legislature.

However, even as administration leaders prepared to move the tax bills Gov. Leader continued a series of personal conferences with Democratic House members who are hesitant about declaring for the income tax or who are outright against it. At least five of the 112-man Democratic House majority have been called to talk taxes with the governor.

Readinger's plan of action calls for:

Democratic Caucus
1. The first Democratic caucus on taxes next Monday afternoon.
2. Ways and Means Committee approval of the major parts of the tax program at a Tuesday meeting.

3. An appearance by Leader at a party caucus Tuesday followed by the first test vote of hands.
4. House debate late next week and July 25.

5. A vote on the 26th.
"I confidently predict victory (on the tax program) the week of July 25," Readinger told newsmen following a brief routine session that ended the week for the House.

"There definitely will be a vote that week, the 26th probably, when I expect the bill will be ready for final passage. It most likely will be a special order of business."

Expect Approval

The Democratic floor leader said there was "no doubt in my mind" that the Ways and Means Committee will act favorably next Tuesday to begin the procedure toward a vote.

He still refused to say outright whether the administration can count the 106 votes it needs to pass the tax.

In continuing efforts to line up support the governor has interviewed Reps. Nat. S. Anderson (Allegheny), A. Patrick Brennan (Bucks), John T. Walsh (Allegheny), Jules Filo (Allegheny) and Marvin Bazin (Philadelphia).

Brennan said he began and ended his talk with the governor by saying "I don't see how I can go along with the income tax."

Five Taxes
He said he told the governor that if it were passed some wage earnings (Please turn to Page 3)

Voluntary Reserve Program Approved

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—The Senate Armed Services Committee today approved a military reserve program banking largely on voluntary participation for the next two years.

The Eisenhower administration had sought compulsory reserve service for all men leaving the active ranks.

Funds Voted

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—The Senate today passed by voice vote and sent to the White House a bill authorizing the Interior Department to pay Pennsylvania up to $8½ million dollars to assist in combating the flooding of anthracite coal mines.

DONNA SUE DAVIS, 2, taken from her crib a few minutes after her mother had tucked her into bed, has been found dead on a farm four miles from her home in Sioux City, Iowa. Discovery of the battered little body intensified the police hunt for a suspect in a white T-shirt and khaki pants who had been seen in the neighborhood. No ransom demands had been made on the father, James Davis, a railroad clerk.

AEC To Start Selling Atomic Electric Power

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., July 13 (AP)—The U. S. government will begin selling atomic-produced electric power shortly.

The first customer will be the Niagara Mohawk Power Corp., which supplies a wide area of upstate New York.

The Atomic Energy Commission announcing the plan today, said the price had been set at three mills per kilowatt hour. The sale will begin "in the near future," the AEC said.

Power will be sold to Niagara Mohawk on a temporary basis, the AEC said, pending determination of whether three public power agencies—two in New York State and one in Massachusetts—would be able to assume their preference rights under the 1954 Atomic Energy Act.

A 10,000-kilowatt turbine generator, operated by steam from a prototype submarine reactor at nearby West Milton, will supply power to the Niagara Mohawk system.

The generator was installed and will be operated — at no cost to the government — by the General Electric Co. GE operates the AEC installation at West Milton.

35 Missing In Sinking Of Mexican Boat

VERACRUZ, Mexico, July 13 (AP)—A crowded Mexican passenger boat sank in the Gulf of Campeche tonight and 35 persons were reported missing. Thirty-one others were rescued.

Bound for Progreso, on the Yucatan Peninsula across the gulf, the La Flecha reportedly went down in stormy seas about four miles off Veracruz.

First reports said 22 passengers and nine crew members had been rescued, and that the bodies of two small children were recovered.

Woman Charges Doctor Made Her Dope Addict

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—Senators investigating the narcotics traffic heard from a 42-year-old woman today that a Washington doctor made her a dope addict and she had to pay him over $40,000 to keep her in drugs.

Asked how she raised the money, she said: "The usual thing a woman goes into, prostitution."

The woman, an attractively dressed blonde whose name was kept secret, accused Dr. Harry Friedenberg, 53, whose office is on I St. in northwest Washington.

Opposes Change

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—The White House took a stand today against an attempt in Congress to disown agreements giving Allied nations jurisdiction over American servicemen charged with crimes abroad.

Iowa Farm-Hand Confesses Abducting, Attacking Baby But Denies He Killed Her

JOPLIN, Mo., July 13 (AP)—Acting Detective Capt. John Showers said late today Audrey Brandt, 42-year-old Laporte City, Iowa, farm hand had admitted raping and beating 2-year-old Donna Sue Davis of Sioux City, Iowa. The girl's body was found near there Monday.

Showers said Brandt had made an oral statement admitting he abducted the girl from her crib Sunday night, but said the man claimed he did not kill her.

Showers said the man's description of the abduction and rape seemed to check with known facts in the slaying. He said the man's story at times was incoherent and rambling, however.

The confession allegedly was made after nine hours of questioning.

Trucker Tips Police

Brandt was arrested here last night after a truck driver told police a hitchhiker fitted the description of a man wanted in the case.

The blue-eyed child, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Davis of Sioux City, was found in a farm field near South Sioux City, Neb., just across the Missouri River from Sioux City.

She had been beaten savagely about the head.

Brandt, a slight, stooped man, told police he didn't know why he took the girl, Showers said. The truck driver, who first notified police, said he picked Brandt up in Springfield, Mo., and let him out just inside of town. The truck driver, who did not identify himself, said Brandt told him he had just come from Iowa a few days before.

Tells of Slaying

Police picked up Brandt at a street corner a few minutes later. Showers said Brandt told officers he once had paid a $100 fine in Iowa for molesting a minor.

This is the story Brandt told, according to Showers:

He passed the Davis home about sundown Sunday, then went to the Nebraska side of the river where he dropped his suitcase in a cornfield. He then went back to the Iowa side and passed the Davis residence once again.

Then Brandt removed the screen to the child's room, took Donna Sue from her crib and went back across the river.

It was there, Showers quoted Brandt, that he raped the girl. When she began screaming, Brandt said, he hit her several times.

He then walked about a half-mile where he changed clothes and began hitchhiking.

Czechs Free U. S. Sergeant

WAISHAUS, Germany, July 13 (AP)—A U. S. Army sergeant seized June 5 when he crossed into communist Czechoslovakia on a picture-taking jaunt was released today.

Sgt. Walter T. Winter of Philadelphia, was returned to U. S. officers at this Bavarian frontier point. He was whisked away to tell intelligence agents of his 39 days behind the Iron Curtain.

Winter had strolled across the Czechoslovak border here to take movies of Customs House when he was nabbed. He was on leave with Gerald M. Byrnes of Eugene, Ore., and a German girl in the party had remained on the West German side.

In releasing Winter at noon, two armed Czechoslovak guards marched him to the middle of a bridge spanning a narrow stream which is the border at this point.

Woman Convicted Of Advising Young Men To Evade Draft

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., July 13 (AP)—Mrs. Lucille S. Miller, 45, was convicted today by a federal jury on 18 counts of advising young men to evade military service.

The jury returned the verdict after a little more than an hour of deliberation. The trial lasted three days. Mrs. Miller was the only defense witness.

Judge Ernest W. Gibson ordered Mrs. Miller to post $1,000 bail for sentencing Aug. 8, when a probation officer's report on her case is to be made to the court.

Mrs. Miller told newsmen after the verdict was given that she considered she "had a fair trial."

The law provides penalties for such violations of the Military Service Act may be punished by imprisonment of up to five years on each count, along with fines up to $10,000 on each charge.

Judge Gibson told newsmen the law specifies no minimum penalties, so that the maximum sentence for Mrs. Miller could run

Eastern Zone Would Be Demilitarized

LONDON, July 13 (AP)—The West was reported ready today with a plan to limit Germany's armed forces to 500,000 men—even after the country is united.

The East zone of Germany, now controlled by the Communists, would be demilitarized and made a buffer zone under Allied proposals, informed diplomats said.

Would Menace Nobody

The Western wish is to convince Russia that a unified Germany within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization need menace nobody. French Premier Edgar Faure drafted the plan for submission to next week's Big Four conference at Geneva.

The proposal would top a series of suggestions that the United States, Britain and France have in mind to make German unification more acceptable to the Soviets and to bolster the peace and security of Europe.

The informants said the plans are dependent on Soviet agreement to free election of a united German government that would have the right to join NATO.

Set By NATO
The 12-division or 500,000-soldier maximum is the same that has been set as West Germany's contribution to NATO.

Strict curbs which presently govern West German armament production also would be applied to a reunited Germany under the Western plan, according to the informants. Even such military supplies as oil would be controlled if a reunited Germany should become a member of NATO in terms of the Western proposal.

France Maps Proposal For Disarmament

PARIS, July 13 (AP)—French Premier Edgar Faure today proposed that the Big Four agree to reduce their armaments and use the money saved for raising the world's standard of living.

Broad outlines of the plan were approved at a meeting of the French Cabinet and will be presented when the chiefs of government of Russia, the United States, Britain and France meet next week at Geneva.

Faure asked: "Why not, parallel to a program of general disarmament, begin immediately by taking a certain percentage of the military expenses of each of the four great powers—to set an example—and put the equivalent amount into a four-power fund open to all and used not for destructive, sterile and negative purposes but for generous, social and positive undertakings?"

The Premier outlined his program at a news conference. Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay was at his side in the big cabinet room of the Hotel Matignon, the Premier's office and official residence.

Committee Bars Bond Issues For Roads Program

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—The House Public Works Committee today approved a giant new highway construction program but defeated President Eisenhower's plan to pay for it through bond issues.

The committee postponed until tomorrow a final decision on a substitute financing plan backed by Democrats. This would increase taxes immediately on gasoline, trucks, heavy tires and tubes, and diesel fuel.

The Eisenhower bond plan was beaten 19-14 with 18 Democrats lining up solidly against it. One Republican, Rep. Alger of Texas, also opposed it and 14 GOP members supported the bond program. Chances for the tax increases appeared to be improving and some members predicted approval in a possibly close vote tomorrow. Some Republicans who supported bond financing today were expected to swing behind the tax plan now to assure some means of paying for the roads.

Eye Adjournment

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—The Senate Republican Policy Committee today agreed that "all efforts possible" should be made to finish the work of the Senate in time for a July 30 adjournment.

FORMER PRESIDENT Harry S. Truman, wearing the fez of his lodge, is shown on his arrival in Chicago to address the annual convention of the Shriners.

Helicopter Crashes In Roof Takeoff

NEW YORK, July 13 (P)—A helicopter crashed and burned today as it was taking off from the roof of a 17-story building in downtown Manhattan. The pilot and a passenger were badly injured.

Police said the pilot apparently forgot to unplug a 30-foot electric cable, used to start the helicopter's motor. As the craft rose from the building the cable came taut and tugged it off balance.

The machine smashed crazily against a 16th floor setback of the block-square Port of New York Authority building at 16th Street and Eighth Avenue, which has a heliport on the roof. The Plexiglas cockpit was shattered.

Rescued by Employees
Employees ran out with fire extinguishers and pulled the pilot and the passenger, a port authority photographer, from the craft.

Seconds later the helicopter toppled over the edge of the building to a three-foot setback at the 15th floor.

Parts of the helicopter rained down on the heavy traffic of Ninth Ave. but no one on the ground was hurt.

The pilot, Marcel O. Chevalier, 35, of Forest Hills, Queens, was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital in serious condition with head injuries and multiple bruises and cuts.

The photographer, Arthur Truss of Staten Island, was in critical condition with a fractured skull and a broken leg.

Pleads Innocent, Flees

Russian Attitude Toward German Unification Sets Up Roadblock To Success Of Geneva Talks

By J. M. Roberts
Associated Press News Analyst
The Soviet government's latest pre-Geneva statement indicates that, while it has changed tone, it has by no means changed policy with regard to a German settlement.

Indeed, the nearer the nations come to the top-level conferences beginning next week in Geneva, the more hardened their attitudes appear.

Britain and France are still throwing out feelers on various aspects of the situation, but American and Russian statements have already put them in relatively nonnegotiable positions at several points.

Russian Motives

The Russians have now re-established the "collective security" roadblock across the road to German reunification, as they did at Berlin a year and a half ago.

In other words, they want to dissolve NATO and the Western European Union which is a part of it, halt the rearmament of West Germany, sign a paper peace and then let the two parts of Germany work out reunification on a basis of possible membership in the new system but on a basis of disarmament which would make her powerless.

This is so far from anything to which the Allies can agree that the outlook for progress in the new negotiations appears virtually hopeless.

Allies Work on Plan

The Allies are still working on the idea of collective security arrangements, apparently between the East and West as blocs, and on other lines of approach, mainly through various forms of disarmament.

France has picked up the old Eisenhower idea of cutting military expenditures and applying the savings to development of underdeveloped areas. If Russia shows any interest, this could easily be made to apply to her own vast undeveloped resources.

If any real collective security arrangements could be made, it would be quite possible for Russia to take out of any "mutual economic aid" pool more than she puts in. But that would be predicated on her renunciation of the theory that Communist revolution must be carried to all points of the world.

Adenauer Confident

The new leaders of Russia do not, in fact, appear to be as interested in this theory as in the Stalin era. But its renunciation would be a very difficult thing, since it provides so much of the foundation for the conduct of Russian internal affairs.

Russia again paraded the threat that Germany would be made a battlefield if she adhered to her intention to rearm within the Western Alliance. But Chancellor Adenauer seemed sure he would get parliamentary approval within the week for launching an army.

Brother-In-Law Arraigned On Murder Charge

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., July 13 (P) — Joseph Reade was arraigned on two counts of first-degree murder today and ordered held for grand jury action in the slaying of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Beverly Reade, 26, and her 19-month-old daughter, Cheryl Lynn.

The 26-year-old former taxi driver waived examination when he appeared before City Court Judge Lester W. Berglund. He was sent to the Chautauque County Jail in Mayville.

Reade was brought to court from the Gowanda State Hospital, where he had been taken last night for a mental examination. He stood impassively between two policemen while the murder charges were read and at first made no response when he was asked if he desired opportunity to obtain counsel.

Waives Examination

Judge Berglund then asked him if he would like a day's adjournment while he consulted an attorney. Reade nodded, but in his jail cell later he changed his mind. He waived examination at his second appearance in court.

Reade, a stocky man with a police record dating back to 1946, admitted in a signed statement yesterday that he had raped, strangled and beaten his victims in his brother's four-room apartment.

Francis Reade, 24, the husband and father, discovered the bodies early yesterday morning upon his return from a night shift job at a factory.

The accused man, a native of Corry, Pa., was married and the father of one child but had separated from his wife.

Reade, who described himself as a "damn maniac" in his statement, told police he committed the slayings after a card game earlier in the evening with Mrs. Reade.

Appropriation Bill Passes

WASHINGTON, July 13 (P) — Congress today completed action on a compromise bill appropriating $1,365,613,500 to finance the Atomic Energy Commission, the Tennessee Valley Authority and public works programs in the current fiscal year.

The measure now goes to President Eisenhower.

The Senate approved the bill on a voice vote after Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) had said that reductions in the AEC section would confront the nation with a "catastrophe." The House voted approval 315-92 earlier.

The compromise was for 421 million dollars less than Eisenhower requested. This was seven millions less than the House originally had approved and 12 millions below original Senate allotments.

Breakdown of Funds

Major sums included $75 million for operating expenses of the Atomic Energy Commission, $27,683,000 for the Tennessee Valley Authority, $401,173,000 for river and harbor and flood control, construction and $51,962,500 for flood control work on the Mississippi River and its tributaries.

President Eisenhower requested $75 million for the AEC.

Congress voted $75,000,000 in new funds plus $740,847,000 in obligated balances for a total obligatory authority of $1,315,847,000.

Including use of carryover funds, the President had requested obligatory authority of $1,525,251,000 for the AEC, or almost 210 million dollars more than Congress voted.

Werkheiser Rites Conducted Here

FUNERAL SERVICES for Elizabeth Werkheiser, late of Stroudsburg RD1, were held yesterday at Warner funeral home.

Revs. Adan Bohner and John Bergstresser officiated. Interment was made in Mount Zion Cemetery. Pallbearers were Herbert Werkheiser, William Snyder, Frank Kemmerer, Charles Haney, John Mackes and Charles Smith.

No Food Tester For Eisenhower

WASHINGTON, July 13 (P) — "Pure bunk" — That's what the White House today called reports that President Eisenhower would have a "food tester" at Geneva as a safeguard against poisoning. Murray Snyder, assistant press secretary, told newsmen he had been receiving inquiries about the matter.

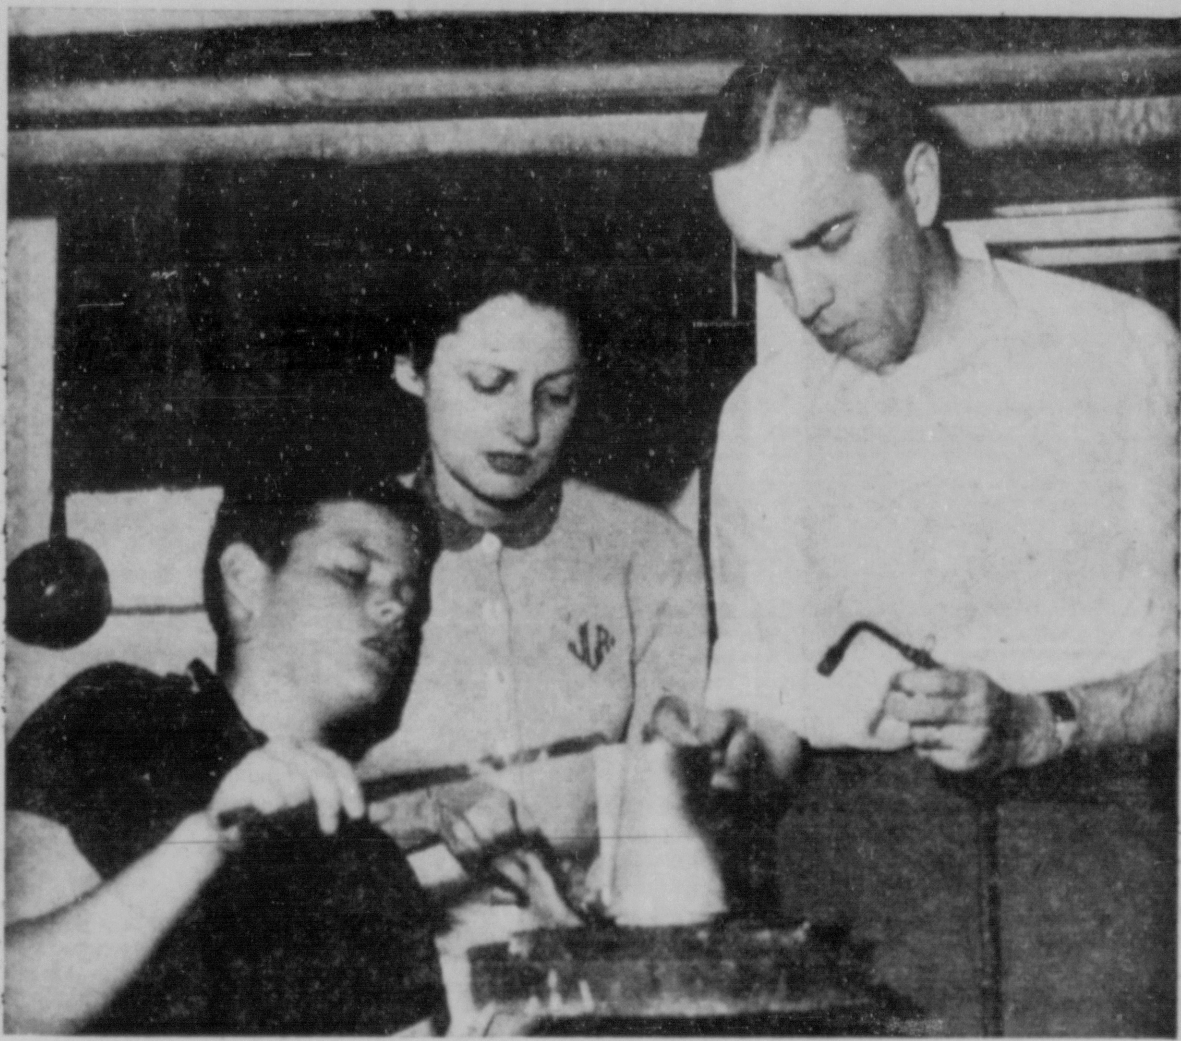

"That is pure bunk," said Snyder.

Bushes Provide Soft Landing

TORONTO, July 13 (P) — A new wrinkle in highway-fatality prevention was unraveled today — a carpet of shrubs.

The American Assn. of Nurserymen said enough shrubs, ribboned in millions along the continent's highways, could cushion ditches so any car could topple in unharmed.

"There's nothing like a live bush for a soft landing," said Valteau C. Curtis, chairman of the Highway Planting Committee, at the association's convention.

THE LESLIES, of Bethlehem—James, Jean and Jim Jr.—main tain the tradition of the home craftsmen. The elder Leslies will take part in the eighth annual State Craft Fair at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College July 29-30-31. James Sr. won the Mildred Davis Keyser Memorial Award at last year's Craft Fair with a silver bowl. His wife is the candidate of the Lehigh Valley Chapter in Allentown for same award this year. Both Mr. and Mrs. Leslie won distinguished craftsman awards at last year's fair. James Jr. has been making rings and bracelets for himself and friends.

Armstrong Rites To Be Held Friday

FUNERAL SERVICES will be held Friday at 11 a.m. at Lanterman funeral home for Mrs. Marie Armstrong, 70, late of Mount Pocono.

Mrs. Armstrong died at 10:20 p.m. Tuesday in General Hospital after an illness of seven years. She was born in Austria but had lived in Mount Pocono the past 35 years.

Surviving are her husband, George J. Armstrong; a son, George Jr. of N. Pine Grove, Pa.; one granddaughter.

Rev. Frank W. Wingerter will officiate at funeral services. Interment will be made in Laurelwood Cemetery. Friends may call today from 7 to 9 p.m. at the funeral home.

Jointure Plan Discussed By Six Districts

Dr. Roy Cleaver, adviser on consolidation and transportation in the Department of Public Instruction, Harrisburg, was the second speaker.

Dr. Cleaver noted that "the time needed to set up a jointure is entirely up to the persons involved in it. If you wished to do so, you (this group) could have one set up and in operation by September of this year."

The speaker pointed out that previous discussion had developed the fact that six of the nine districts (the six were unnamed during the night) had indicated they favored a one-district administrative unit such as the proposed jointure.

Discourages Delay

"If you have six districts ready now," he said, "I'd suggest it's possible tonight to set a date at which representatives of each board would meet as a steering committee and draw up a tentative, proposed agreement."

"There is one all-important thing you must remember in your discussions of jointure," he continued. "In Harrisburg, we have on hand hundreds of applications for subsidies to build new school buildings from all over the State."

"Thinking of waiting a year, therefore, should be out of the question. Applications now on file and new ones coming in would eat up all the funds set aside by the current session of the General Assembly. Right now it looks as if we'll have a substantial subsidy, but if you want to get in under the wire, you'd better start doing something now."

The directors later rejected the idea of setting up a steering committee immediately. Instead they decided to hold a second full-scale meeting on jointure on July 27.

East To Name Spokesman

During the two weeks before that date each board was requested to name a spokesman who might serve as a member of a steering committee to be set up at that time. All members of all nine boards were urged to attend the July 27 meeting.

Dr. Cleaver's closing remarks amounted to a summation of "my experience with dozens of jointures" in the State.

"To be ready for joint operation you must be ready spiritually as well as mentally," he said. "You must trust the people working with you in the jointure."

A third guest at the meeting, Nathaniel Danowsky, Federal representative attached to the State departments' school business office, was introduced but did not address the group.

Walter H. Sebring, assistant county superintendent of schools, served as moderator for the meeting.

Ike Signs Defense Measure But Criticizes One Section

WASHINGTON, July 13 (P) — President Eisenhower signed the $31,882,000,000 defense appropriations bill today, although he said he would regard one section of it as unconstitutional until the courts rule otherwise.

The President objected to a "ridiculous" giving congressional committee the power to block any Defense Department plans to shut down government shipyards, arsenals and the like.

If the money wasn't urgently needed by the Defense Department for its operations in the new fiscal year, Eisenhower said in a sharp and unusual message to Congress, "I would have withheld my approval of the bill."

Two Democrat congressmen immediately challenged the President's statement, calling it "nullification" and illegal "veto by paragraph." Some Republicans came to the President's defense.

Funds Appropriated

The legislation appropriates $14,739,000,000 for the expanding Air Force in the 12 months which began July 1, $9,118,000,000 for the Navy and Marine Corps, $7,329,000,000 for the Army and the balance for general Defense Department purposes.

A House Appropriations subcommittee wrote in the rider to which the President objected so strongly.

It was attached to a provision of the bill dealing with Defense Department's authority "to rid itself of many of the manifold activities that it has been performing with its civilian personnel, and that can be adequately and economically performed by private industry without danger to the national security."

Favors Private Enterprise

The Eisenhower administration has placed a good deal of emphasis on what it feels is a need for the government to divest itself of operations that could be handled by private enterprise.

Congress provided, however, that if the Defense Department wants to shut down any of its shipyards or similar services it must give Congress 90 days notice. If either a House or Senate Committee disapproves of a shutdown, the rider says, operations must continue.

The rider won the support of Congress members fearful of shutdowns of government installations in their districts.

Citizens Meet Tonight To File Protest

MOUNT POCONO — A protest meeting against closing of the railroad station in this borough will be held at 7 tonight at Mount Pocono Fire Hall.

Sponsored by the Top of the Poconos Association and residents of the entire area through voluntary contribution the meeting is designed to allow all persons to register a protest against the proposed depot shutdown.

A hearing on an application by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad to close the station and the railway express office located in it will be held at 10 a. m. Friday in the main court room of Monroe County Court House in Stroudsburg.

Residents May Attend

All residents of Mount Pocono and surrounding regions will be urged to attend the hearing, also.

At tonight's meeting discussion of the DL&W proposal will be heard. When the railway's proposal was first filed with the Public Utilities Commission early this year protests against the closing were filed with the PUC by 95 residents of the area.

Attorneys for the citizens' group are Elmer D. Christine, chief attorney, assisted by Walter Olenick and Charles Bensinger.

Calves 50, veal slow, Hogs 200, barrows and gilts moderately active, sows steady. Sheep 100, lambs slow.

HARRISBURG, July 13 (P) — Mrs. Catherine Kreitzer of nearby Camp Hill intends staying on her typing job at Mechanicsburg Naval Depot despite the fact that she now is richer by $32,000.

"I'll keep my job and leave the money in the bank for a rainy day," she told a newsmen.

The 54-year-old grandmother won the sum by answering questions on Bible lore presented to her on the CBS television show "The $64,000 Question."

Mrs. Kreitzer had a chance last night to try for the $64,000 in a final series of Bible questions but withdrew. Had she missed she would have lost the $32,000 won in previous weekly quizzes and would have won only an automobile as a consolation prize.

India Considers Nationalizing Insurance Firms

NEW DELHI, July 13 (P) — Indian government officials are studying the possibility of nationalizing this country's insurance industry.

Finance Ministry sources say there is no immediate prospect of taking over existing insurance firms. They add that "other ideas" have taken preference, including a proposal for a state-controlled firm to provide low-cost policies of a general nature, especially life and health, to low-income groups.

These comments have not allayed the fears of the insurance companies. They believe one or more of them might be nationalized to form the new company, as the Imperial Bank was nationalized to create the State Bank of India.

Man Arrested On Morals Count

RALPH Lewis Ladner, 516 S. First St., Bangor, was committed to Monroe County Jail yesterday by East Stroudsburg officials on an F and B charge.

Ladner was committed to jail on authority of Herbert Bonser, East Stroudsburg justice of the peace with Travis Seese the committing officer.

Jail officials said Ladner had served a previous sentence at Camp Hill and is also known by the alias of "Lobb".

Wages paid to government employees at federal, state and local levels in 1950 totalled $22,100,000,000.

State House Sets July 26 For Tax Vote

ers in his highly industrialized district would have to pay five taxes on income.

He listed these as being imposed by the federal government, state, city of Philadelphia, first class townships and school districts.

At the same time the governor arranged a new series of five television appearances, beginning Friday night, in further efforts to take the decision to the people.

He will appear Friday in Wilkes-Barre and later at dates still to be decided in Altoona, Harrisburg, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. Last month the governor appeared on 11 panel TV shows.

Unit Rule Studied
The possibility that the Democratic caucus may invoke the "unit rule"—take a stand that all members vote for the income tax—remains under consideration.

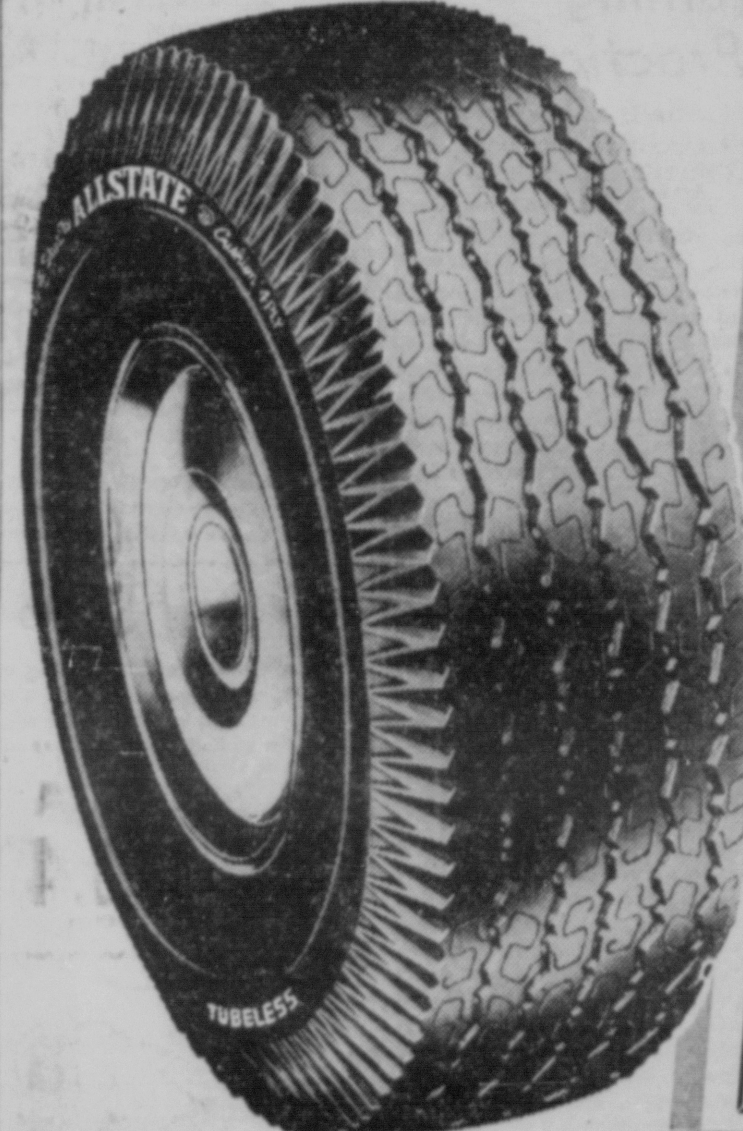

"I'm not able to predict what might be done with that (unit rule)," Readinger commented. "You can make such a rule but you can't enforce it."

Speaker H. G. Andrews (D-Cambria) has threatened any Democrat voting against the tax with expulsion from the caucus. Readinger said he expected Andrews to attend "at least one" of the tax sessions the week of the 25th.

Helicopter Crashes In Roof Takeoff

NEW YORK, July 13 (P)—A helicopter crashed and burned today as it was taking off from the roof of a 17-story building in downtown Manhattan. The pilot and a passenger were badly injured.

Police said the pilot apparently forgot to unplug a 30-foot electric cable, used to start the helicopter's motor. As the craft rose from the building the cable came taut and tugged it off balance.

The machine smashed crazily against a 16th floor setback of the block-square Port of New York Authority building at 16th Street and Eighth Avenue, which has a heliport on the roof. The Plexiglas cockpit was shattered.

Rescued by Employees
Employees ran out with fire extinguishers and pulled the pilot and the passenger, a port authority photographer, from the craft.

Seconds later the helicopter toppled over the edge of the building to a three-foot setback at the 15th floor.

Parts of the helicopter rained down on the heavy traffic of Ninth Ave., but no one on the ground was hurt.

The pilot, Marcel O. Chevalier, 30, of Forest Hills, Queens, was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital in serious condition with head injuries and multiple bruises and cuts.

The photographer, Arthur Truss of Staten Island, was in critical condition with a fractured skull and a broken leg.

Russian Attitude Toward German Unification Sets Up Roadblock To Success Of Geneva Talks

By J. M. Roberts
Associated Press News Analyst

The Soviet government's latest pre-Geneva statement indicates that, while it has changed tone, it has by no means changed policy with regard to a German settlement.

Indeed, the nearer the nations come to the top-level conferences beginning next week in Geneva, the more hardened their attitudes appear.

Britain and France are still throwing out feelers on various aspects of the situation, but American and Russian statements have already put them in relatively nonnegotiable positions at several points.

Russian Motives

The Russians have now re-established the "collective security" roadblock across the road to German reunification, as they did at Berlin a year and a half ago.

In other words, they want to dissolve NATO and the Western European Union which is a part of it, halt the rearmament of West Germany, sign a paper peace and then let the two parts of Germany work out reunification on a basis of possible membership in the new system but on a basis of disarmament which would make her powerless.

This is so far from anything to which the Allies can agree that the outlook for progress in the new negotiations appears virtually hopeless.

Allies Work on Plan

The Allies are still working on the idea of collective security arrangements, apparently between the East and West as blocs, and on other lines of approach, mainly through various forms of disarmament.

France has picked up the old Eisenhower idea of cutting military expenditures and applying the savings to development of underdeveloped areas. If Russia shows any interest, this could easily be made to apply to her own vast undeveloped resources.

If any real collective security arrangements could be made, it would be quite possible for Russia to take out of any "mutual economic aid" pool more than she puts in. But that would be predicated on her renunciation of the theory that Communist revolution must be carried to all points of the world.

Adenauer Confident

The new leaders of Russia do not, in fact, appear to be as interested in this theory as in the Stalin era. But its renunciation would be a very difficult thing, since it provides so much of the foundation for the conduct of Russian internal affairs.

Russia again paraded the threat that Germany would be made a battlefield if she adhered to her intention to rearm within the Western Alliance. But Chancellor Adenauer seemed sure he would get parliamentary approval within the week for launching an army.

Brother-In-Law Arraigned On Murder Charge

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., July 13 (AP)—Joseph Reade was arraigned on two counts of first-degree murder today and ordered held for grand jury action in the slaying of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Beverly Reade, 26, and her 19-month-old daughter, Cheryl Lynn.

The 26-year-old former taxi driver waived examination when he appeared before City Court Judge Lester W. Berglund. He was sent to the Chautauque County Jail in Mayville.

Reade was brought to court from the Gowanda State Hospital, where he had been taken last night for a mental examination.

He stood impassively between two policemen while the murder charges were read and at first made no response when he was asked if he desired opportunity to obtain counsel.

Waives Examination

Judge Berglund then asked him if he would like a day's adjournment while he consulted an attorney. Reade nodded, but in his jail cell later he changed his mind. He waived examination at his second appearance in court.

Reade, a stocky man with a police record dating back to 1946, admitted in a signed statement yesterday that he had raped, strangled and beaten his victims in his brother's four-room apartment.

Francis Reade, 24, the husband and father, discovered the bodies early yesterday morning upon his return from a night shift job at a factory.

The accused man, a native of Corry, Pa., was married and the father of one child but had separated from his wife.

Reade, who described himself as a "damned maniac" in his statement, told police he committed the slayings after a card game earlier in the evening with Mrs. Reade.

Appropriation Bill Passes

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—Congress today completed action on a compromise bill appropriating $1,365,613,500 to finance the Atomic Energy Commission, the Tennessee Valley Authority and public works programs in the current fiscal year.

The measure now goes to President Eisenhower.

The Senate approved the bill on a voice vote after Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) had said that reductions in the AEC section would confront the nation with a "catastrophe." The House voted approval 315-92 earlier.

The compromise was for 424 million dollars less than Eisenhower requested. This was seven millions less than the House originally had approved and 12 millions below original Senate allotments.

Breakdown of Funds

Major sums included $75 million for operating expenses of the Atomic Energy Commission, $27,603,000 for the Tennessee Valley Authority, $401,173,000 for river and harbor and flood control, construction and $51,962,500 for flood control work on the Mississippi River and its tributaries.

President Eisenhower requested $75 million for the AEC.

Congress voted $75,000,000 in new funds plus $740,847,000 in obligated balances for a total obligation authority of $1,315,847,000.

Including use of carryover funds, the President had requested obligation authority of $1,525,281,000 for the AEC, or almost 210 million dollars more than Congress voted.

Jointure Plan Discussed By Six Districts

Dr. Roy Cleaver, adviser on consolidation and transportation in the Department of Public Instruction, Harrisburg, was the second speaker.

Dr. Cleaver noted that "the time needed to set up a jointure is entirely up to the persons involved in it. If you wished to do so, you (this group) could have one set up and in operation by September of this year."

The speaker pointed out that previous discussion had developed the fact that six of the nine districts (the six were unnamed during the night) had indicated they favored a one-district administrative unit such as the proposed jointure.

Discourages Delay

"If you have six districts ready now," he said, "I'd suggest it's possible tonight to set a date at which representatives of each board would meet as a steering committee and draw up a tentative, proposed agreement."

"There is one all-important thing you must remember in your discussions of jointure," he continued.

"In Harrisburg, we have on hand hundreds of applications for subsidies to build new school buildings from all over the State."

"Thinking of waiting a year, therefore, should be out of the question. Applications now on file and new ones coming in would eat up all the funds set aside by the current session of the General Assembly. Right now it looks as if we'll have a substantial subsidy—but if you want to get in under the wire, you'd better start doing something now."

The directors later rejected the idea of setting up a steering committee immediately. Instead they decided to hold a second full-scale meeting on jointure on July 27.

East To Name Spokesman

During the two weeks before that date each board was requested to name a spokesman who might serve as a member of a steering committee to be set up at that time. All members of all nine boards were urged to attend the July 27 meeting.

Dr. Cleaver's closing remarks amounted to a summation of "my experience with dozens of jointures" in the State.

"To be ready for joint operation you must be ready spiritually as well as mentally," he said. "You must trust the people working with you in the jointure."

A third guest at the meeting, Nathaniel Danowsky, Federal representative attached to the State departments' school business office, was introduced but did not address the group.

Walter H. Sebring, assistant county superintendent of schools, served as moderator for the meeting.

Ike Signs Defense Measure But Criticizes One Section

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—President Eisenhower signed the $31,882,000,000 defense appropriations bill today, although he said he will regard one section of it as unconstitutional until the courts rule otherwise.

The President objected to a "ridiculous" giving congressional committees the power to block any Defense Department plans to shut down government shipyards, arsenals and the like.

If the money wasn't urgently needed by the Defense Department for its operations in the new fiscal year, Eisenhower said in a sharp and unusual message to Congress, "I would have withheld my approval of the bill."

Two Democrat congressmen immediately challenged the President's statement, calling it "nullification" and illegal "veto by paragraph." Some Republicans came to the President's defense.

Funds Appropriated

The legislation appropriates $14,729,000,000 for the expanding Air Force in the 12 months which began July 1, $9,118,000,000 for the Navy and Marine Corps, $7,329,000,000 for the Army and the balance for general Defense Department purposes.

A House Appropriations subcommittee wrote in the rider to which the President objected so strongly.

It was attached to a provision of the bill dealing with Defense Department's authority "to rid itself of many of the manifold activities that it has been performing with its civilian personnel, and that can be adequately and economically performed by private industry without danger to the national security."

Favors Private Enterprise

The Eisenhower administration has placed a good deal of emphasis on what it feels is a need for the government to divest itself of operations that could be handled by private enterprise.

Congress provided, however, that if the Defense Department wants to shut down any of its shipyards or similar services it must give Congress 90 days notice. If either a House or Senate Committee disapproves of a shutdown, the rider says, operations must continue.

The rider won the support of Congress members fearful of shutdowns of government installations in their districts.

Mrs. Kreitzer To Remain At Typing Job

HARRISBURG, July 13 (AP)—Mrs. Catherine Kreitzer of nearby Camp Hill intends staying on her typing job at Mechanicsburg Naval Depot despite the fact that she now is richer by $32,000.

"I'll keep my job and leave the money in the bank for a rainy day," she told a newsmen.

The 34-year-old grandmother won the sum by answering questions on Bible lore presented to her on the CBS television show "The $64,000 Question."

Mrs. Kreitzer had a chance last night to try for the $64,000 in a final series of Bible questions but withdrew. Had she missed she would have lost the $32,000 won in previous weekly quizzes and would have won only an automobile as a consolation prize.

India Considers Nationalizing Insurance Firms

NEW DELHI, July 13 (AP)—Indian government officials are studying the possibility of nationalizing this country's insurance industry.

Finance Ministry sources say there is no immediate prospect of taking over existing insurance firms. They add that "other ideas" have taken preference, including a proposal for a state-controlled firm to provide low-cost policies of a general nature, especially life and health, to low-income groups.

These comments have not allayed the fears of the insurance companies. They believe one or more of them might be nationalized to form the new company, as the Imperial Bank was nationalized to create the State Bank of India.

Man Arrested On Morals Count

RALPH Lewis Ladner, 516 S. First St., Bangor, was committed to Monroe County Jail yesterday by East Stroudsburg officials on an F and B charge.

Ladner was committed to jail on authority of Herbert Bonser, East Stroudsburg justice of the peace with Travis Seese the committing officer.

Jail officials said Ladner had served a previous sentence at Camp Hill and is also known by the alias of "Lobb."

Citizens Meet Tonight To File Protest

MOUNT POCONO — A protest meeting against closing of the railroad station in this borough will be held at 7 tonight at Mount Pocono Fire Hall.

Sponsored by the Top of the Poconos Association and residents of the entire area through voluntary contribution the meeting is designed to allow all persons to register a protest against the proposed depot shutdown.

A hearing on an application by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad to close the station and the railway express office located in it will be held at 10 a. m. Friday in the main court room of Monroe County Court House in Stroudsburg.

Residents May Attend

All residents of Mount Pocono and surrounding regions will be urged to attend the hearing, also.

At tonight's meeting discussion of the DL&W proposal will be heard. When the railway's proposal was first filed with the Public Utilities Commission early this year protests against the closing were filed with the PUC by 95 residents of the area.

Attorneys for the citizens' group are Elmer D. Christine, chief attorney, assisted by Walter Olenick and Charles Bensinger.

Film Personality To Direct Summer Band Being Formed In Area By Waring Workshop

MEMBERS OF HIGH school bands are being given an opportunity to join a special Summer band sponsored by Fred Waring Music Workshop.

Director of the band will be Dr. Leo Arnaud of Hollywood, Calif. Dr. Arnaud is a leading motion picture composer, arranger and conductor who is now on the staff of the workshop.

Cancer Unit To Elect New Officers

MONROE County Unit of the American Cancer Society holds its annual meeting tonight at 8 in the YMCA building, Stroudsburg.

New officers will be installed. Dr. Paul Shiffer is retiring as president of the local unit. He has held the post three years.

Also slated to retire is Mrs. Robert Miller, county captain. All members of the unit's board of directors are urged to attend. According to Mrs. Miller, persons who have contributed to the society are also invited to attend the meeting.

Goodman Funeral Service Planned

FUNERAL SERVICES for John Goodman, 66, late of Mount Pocono, who died Tuesday in General Hospital, will be at 10 a.m. Monday, July 18 in Philadelphia. The services are scheduled for the Harold Milligan funeral home in Philadelphia. Daniel G. Warner, Stroudsburg, is in charge of local arrangements.

According to Earl Willhoite, workshop supervisor, letters have been sent to members of leading school bands in this area. Plans now call for holding the two first sessions on Monday, July 18.

Both sessions will be held in the Waring Enterprises Building—formerly known as the Henry Building—on the corner of Crystal and Washington Sts., East Stroudsburg. The first session will be held at 9:30 a. m.; the second will be a night session (designed for instrumentalists who have Summer daytime jobs) to be held at 7:30 p. m.

The Summer band instruction will be given free of charge to all the players invited to join the band. Willhoite emphasized. Students are asked to bring their own instruments and music racks and attend at least one—or both—of the sessions on the 18th.

Further plans will be announced after the initial session. Willhoite said. Dr. Arnaud is extremely enthusiastic about the possibilities for such a band. Willhoite said last night.

Goodman, who had lived most of his life in Philadelphia, was employed at the time of his death at Strickland's resort hotel in this area.

State House Sets July 26 For Tax Vote

ers in his highly industrialized district would have to pay five taxes on income.

He listed these as being imposed by the federal government, state, city of Philadelphia, first class townships and school districts.

At the same time the governor arranged a new series of five television appearances, beginning Friday night, in further efforts to take the decision to the people.

He will appear Friday in Wilkes-Barre and later at dates still to be decided in Altoona, Harrisburg, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. Last month the governor appeared on 11 panel TV shows.

Unit Rule Studied

The possibility that the Democratic caucus may invoke the "unit rule"—take a stand that all members vote for the income tax—remains under consideration.

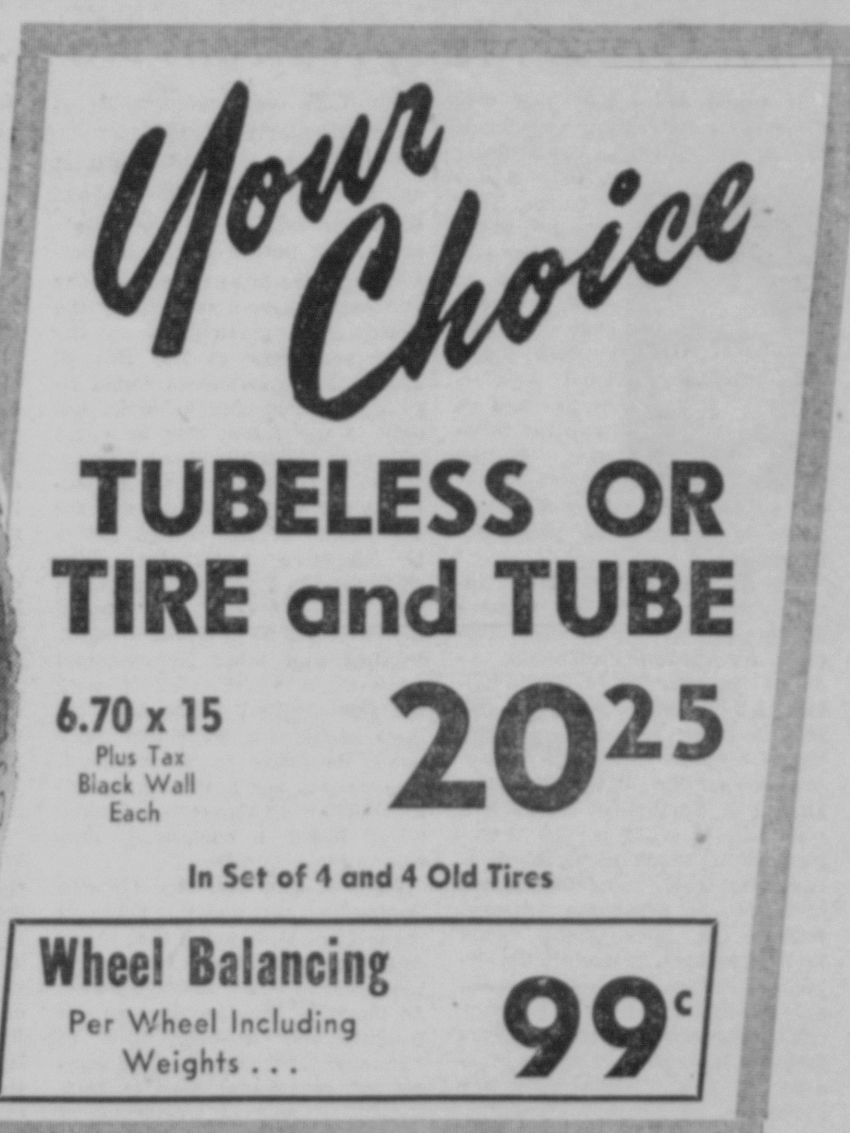

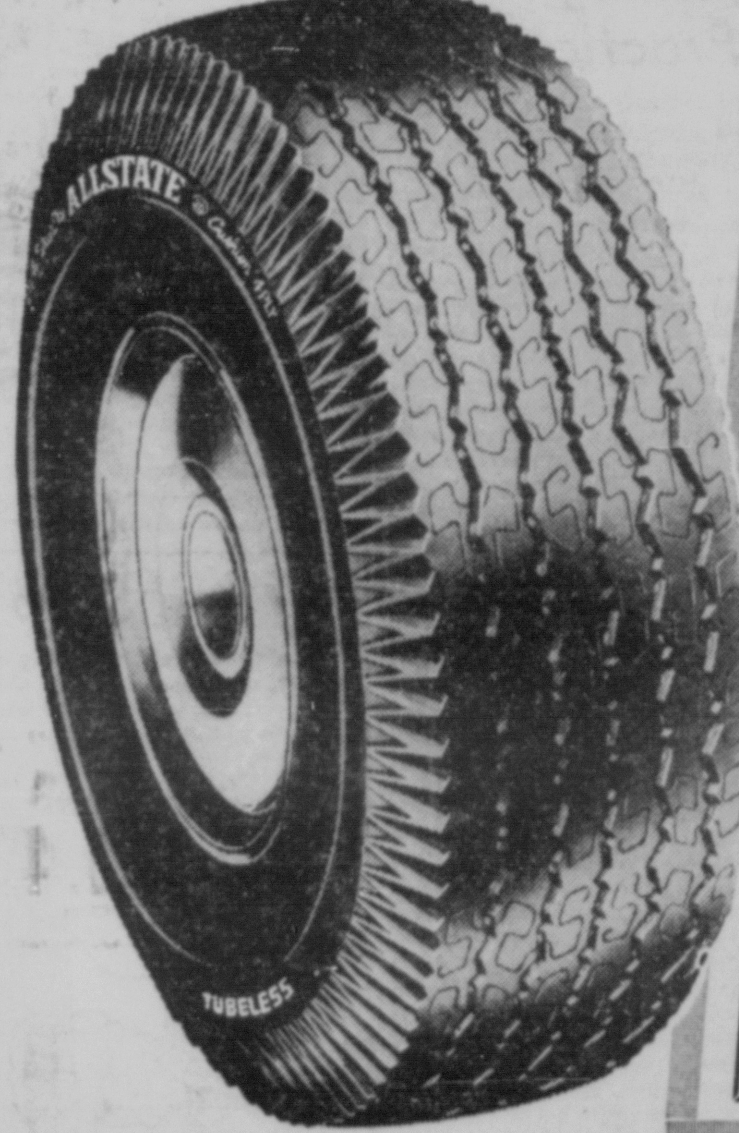

"I'm not able to predict what might be done with that (unit rule)," Readinger commented. "You can make such a rule but you can't enforce it."

Speaker H. G. Andrews (D-Cambria) has threatened any Democrat voting against the tax with expulsion from the caucus. Readinger said he expected Andrews to attend "at least one" of the tax sessions the week of the 25th.

American Gold Certainly Not Best
Reward For Stories Of Renegades

Ever since we learned of the imminent return of the three renegade soldiers who had initially declined to return to the homeland during the repatriation program at Panmunjon, we have been striving nobly to maintain a calm, unprejudiced and fair attitude about these young men.

In the main, we are still of the opinion that they must be given adequate opportunity to tell their stories and to explain, if they can, just what it was that motivated them in their tentative embrace of Communism and their patent distaste for the United States of America.

But having read the Associated Press correspondent's story of their first night of freedom from Communist China, an evening spent in the bars and dance halls of Hong Kong, we find our attitude somewhat changed.

Not that their evening in Hong Kong was disgracefully disreputable, for there seems to be no evidence to that effect. No, it was what they said, these three southern lads who were given dishonorable discharges from the service when they turned their backs on our country and elected to stay with the Chinese Reds.

For the three, as reported by the A.P. correspondent, seemed to evince even less intelligence than one might expect and their spokesman, avowing that since "we have to pick up some quick cash before we land in the States" suggested that he would like to know "what it's worth for our stories."

We do not deny the inherent right of every man to seek payment for whatever he has to offer in the way of goods or services, but in the case of the three renegades we would suggest, respectfully, that we can think of what their reward might be for their stories.

And it wouldn't be in hard, American gold, either.

Even Without Buildings Air Force
Academy Needed For Better Defense

Although the new United States Air Force Academy held its dedication ceremonies in Denver without benefit of formal quarters other than the temporary ones at the Lowry Air Force Base, the occasion was a dramatic one in that it observed the beginning of the third major academy for the armed services and official recognition of the essential part the airman play and will play in our national security.

And despite the occasional caustic remarks by the older services of land and sea, West Point and Annapolis were represented by colors and escorts as they welcomed the youngest of the academies into the family.

Air Force Secretary Talbott administered the oath of allegiance to the 300 youngsters who have the honor of composing the initial class to get the Air Academy started.

Other high-ranking officers of the Air

Force were there to smile benignly on the freshmen and to look forward to the day when the first class will be graduated.

It is a far cry from the days when the fledgling aviation section of the Army was a small and not too powerful force, through the continuing battle by Gen. Billy Mitchell and others for recognition of the importance of the air arm, so the dedication of the new Air Academy marked a definite achievement in that struggle for proper recognition.

Soon the Academy will have its own buildings—after a delay while Congress very properly makes certain architectural plans are complete—but even without them it is well on the way to being a needed element in the balanced defense forces required by our nation in the midst of a troubled world.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Bricker Amendment Involves Nothing
That Great Many Nations Now Practice

It would seem now that this Congress may adjourn without taking any action on the Bricker Amendment. That does not at all mean that this proposition is dead. President Eisenhower's personal popularity has had an hypnotic influence on the legislators of our country so that what he opposes is regarded as politically dangerous.

The Bricker Amendment involves nothing that most countries do not practice. Its general principle, for instance, is binding upon the government of Great Britain, which cannot by treaty affect the domestic law of the country. If a treaty calls for a change in domestic law, it would require an Act of Parliament to make it effective. It could not be secret because it would be debated. It could not contain misunderstood or hidden, or ambiguous clauses, because the government would feel called upon to explain the details in Parliament and the opposition would bring out the facts.

The opponents of the measure feel that it would give the appearance of a limitation upon the President, particularly upon President Eisenhower. Republicans, who denounce both Presidents Roosevelt and Truman for Yalta and Potsdam, object to regularizing our treaty procedures during the Administration of President Eisenhower, lest it reflect upon his popularity which seems so important to them. Senator

John W. Bricker, commenting on this particular point, said:

"Opponents of my amendment say that it would tie the hands of the President. That is true in one sense, but untrue in the impression intended to be conveyed. The President's hands are tied by the Constitution, particularly by the wise restraints of the Bill of Rights. My amendment would also tie the President's hands, but only to the extent that he could not make international agreements in conflict with the Constitution nor make one-man law for the people of the United States by executive agreement. Why shouldn't the President's hands be tied to that extent? Why should the President have power to make treaties and other international agreements which conflict with the Constitution? What domestic laws should the President have power to make by international agreements not approved by either House of Congress? I have never heard a convincing answer to these questions."

As we approach the Geneva Conference, this question takes on the additional meaning that many Americans would like to be sure that Geneva is not another Yalta. As much as they are sure of the goodwill and abiding faith of President Eisenhower, they cannot but recall that back in 1945, President Roosevelt was a man of such extraordinary personal popularity that he had been elected to the Presidency four times by enormous majorities. Yet today no one in this country is satisfied with the results of Yalta, except the Communists who exult in Russia's victory.

Geneva may amount to nothing and no treaty or agreement or secret agreement may come from it. On the other hand, it is a meeting among politicians, three of whom hold office by popular elections. For President Eisenhower, it is more immediately important than for Sir Anthony Eden, because Eisenhower is already involved in an election campaign. While some may take the position that Eisenhower cannot be defeated by anyone, politicians know that anything can happen in an election and that a man who is at the apex of popularity in 1955, may not be quite so high in 1956.

Therefore it would be of political value to strengthen President Eisenhower's position by making it possible for him to bring back from Geneva some document that might give the impression of achieving world peace, even though the full value of the document may not be known until years later and may be harmful to this country, as Yalta was. Since the beginning of World War II, secret diplomacy has become current. Along with it has developed a tendency to suppress the news even in a free country. Every government tries to exercise some form of censorship, including our own. The most effective form is the withholding of important and crucial information from the people by refusing it not only to the press but to Congress. In many instances today such data can only be obtained from government, and therefore become altogether unavailable.

Some way needs to be found to get at the truth early enough to be of potency. The Bricker Amendment is one way because it requires debate in Congress.

Straight, Place and Refund
A woman who lost $425 playing the ponies has sued the track for her money back, citing an old law which would seem to demand it. We nominate the gal as Miss Optimism for 1955, give her an Oscar for the Best Performance—Reflecting High Indignation and pick her as chair lady of National Wuz-Robbed Week. It was the lady's first visit to a horse track and she looks like a stand-out among all horse players getting cured fast. The feeling you should get your dough back seldom takes hold on a first day at the races. There is generally a conviction that there is a chance to get even on a second try.

Shudda Haddin, well-known race bettor, is with her to the last drop. "There will be no complete happiness in racing until we bettors can get our money cheerfully refunded when the opportunity for riches is not as represented on the bottle," he declared today. (He would sue immediately if he could spare the $2 and get a lawyer suitable for support straight, place and show.) "I also would like inside information on whether the judge who handles my suit is fit and ready," he explains. "All the wrong steers I get come within the racing premises," he went on, "and this imposes responsibility squarely on the track owners." He cited the following cases:

1.—Peabody versus Jamaica: The plaintiff was a victim of floating rumors within the track itself. Before entering the premises he had decided to play "Wing-Home," a sure thing, but bought a ticket instead on Dumpty Dan, a sore-going camel, after being hit by a floating rumor. He thus became a victim of a switcheroo under track auspices. The plaintiff also is entitled to his money back for money bet on a daily double, it being the court's opinion that such a wager constitutes DOUBLE JEOPARDY.

2.—Hamish Versus Pimlico: In this case a Mr. Puddicombe visited the track for the first time, just for fun and fresh air. He had no intent to wager, until he saw men collecting in a payoff window. Since the track had failed to screen off winners at this window, culpability is obvious. If the track were innocent of any desire to get the plaintiff's money it could have put signs over the $2 betting windows reading "Not to Be Opened 'Til Christmas."

3.—Cogswell versus Suffolk Downs: The plaintiff got into the betting line with his own selection only to be touted off. If a customer wants a chicken sandwich and gets a frankfurter his money is refunded. What's the difference when he wants a winner and gets a stiff?

Oral Arguments Held To Be Better Than Written Briefs

The pen may be mightier than the sword, but in derring-do before the high courts the weapon to use is the human voice.

So, at least, thinks Justice John M. Harlan, newest member of the U. S. Supreme Court. In a recent address at Asheville, N. C., he advised lawyers who want to win cases in the appellate courts to rely more on oral arguments and less on written briefs.

It is not true, as many lawyers believe, that jurists rely mainly on the briefs required in appellate cases, according to Justice Harlan. A simple presentation is the most effective, he said, and oral argument lends itself readily to "selectivity, simplicity, candor and resiliency."

Well, I guess a justice of the United States Supreme Court is entitled to his own opinion if anybody is. But I'm sorry Mr. Justice Harlan expressed his opinion just that way. In a sense, it amounts to condemning the written word without due process of law.

What the eminent jurist was doing there, I suspect, was voicing an experienced critic's appraisal of the quality of legal briefs that have come to his attention during his service on the bench.

After plowing through ream after ream of that tedious law-office gobbledygook he apparently feels that most lawyers would do better to abandon their literary aspirations and just tell the judge what they have to say in their own words.

That feeling isn't hard to understand. But oral argument isn't the only possible remedy and it seems to me somebody ought to get something on the record in support of what I consider the more desirable alternative.

Instead of chucking the paper work and falling back on word of mouth, these lawyers who have trouble selling their views to the appellate courts might try writing more interesting briefs.

What they have been doing, they have been boring the judges to death with ponderous prose.

It is quite as possible, although maybe not as easy, to be selective, simple and candid in writing an argument as in reciting one orally. And writing can be a darn sight more precise and accurate.

Furthermore, it's a lot handier than spoken argument, from the jurist's standpoint. He can take a written brief in small doses, according to his taste and mood. If he wants to knock off in the middle of it and go to the ball game there's no harm done.

If a brief is interesting reading a judge doesn't mind taking it home to puzzle out an occasional obscure point when he can take his shoes off and loosen his collar. But he can't take the lawyer home with him.

True, oral argument permits a little more "resiliency." The lawyer can change his tack quickly if he senses a change in the wind. But do we want justice based on logic or fancy footwork?

Egypt, Israel Due For Military Aid Program

Washington, July 14 — Plans are in motion to bring Egypt and Israel directly into the military aid program.

This significant development is one of a number of far-reaching strategic measures designed to build up additional forces against Communist aggression in crucial areas.

These momentous plans are being pressed regardless of the impending "summit" conference. Following are publishable highlights of this new strategic program:

Extend military aid to four other Middle Eastern countries—Egypt, Israel, Lebanon and Libya. Iran and Iraq already receive such assistance. Like them, the other four will sign bi-lateral military treaties with the U. S. and thereupon will be supplied with arms and other military aid of various kinds, including training missions.

An American military mission is replacing the French in Cambodia, which was suddenly attacked by the Reds last week.

U. S. military missions in Germany, Japan and Formosa are being considerably increased.

Indonesia, for the first time since becoming independent, is accepting an American training mission. It will train the national police of Indonesia and $200,000 in foreign aid funds is being allocated for this purpose. This development is of utmost importance in critical Southeast Asia because Indonesia has been pursuing a neutralist policy, similar to that of India and Burma.

Defense Secretary Charles Wilson disclosed these plans in an unpublished memorandum to congressional leaders. He informed them the U. S. now has 31 military missions in foreign countries, and asked for an additional $5,000,000 for the five new missions.

Congress has also been advised that discussions already are underway on military treaties with Egypt, Israel, Lebanon and Libya. It has been indicated that one or more of these agreements will be signed in the fall, and the others by next year.

As part of this expanded strategic program in the Middle East, the following highly important economic aid is also contemplated under the foreign aid budget:

Developmental Aid—$75,000,000, for projects of various kinds in the Arab states and Israel; Refugee Aid—$65,000,000, for resettling the thousands of Arab refugees in the Gaza Strip section; Point Four Aid—$4,000,000 for Egypt; $2,000,000 for Israel; $2,000,000 for Lebanon; $2,000,000 for Libya.

Note: The House Appropriations Committee has assigned investigators to look into reports that large quantities of "excess" military equipment have been delivered to a number of countries. In one instance, these mysterious "excess" shipments allegedly amounted to the astounding total of $100,000,000 in arms and supplies.

What's Behind It—The unannounced decision to send a military mission to Cambodia was made against the advice of Lieutenant General John O'Daniel head of the Military Advisory Group in Indo-China.

He urged integration of the Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia armies, as the French did, but the Joint Chiefs of Staff deemed that unwise and overruled him.

This was disclosed by Assistant Secretary of State William Sebald at a private meeting with the House Foreign Affairs Committee. He pictured the situation in Indo-China as grim but hopeful.

"Recent events give us increased ground for optimism," Sebald said in reply to a question by Representative James Richard (D., S. S.), chairman. "There is considerable criticism of Premier Diem. But it is only fair to point out that he has proved himself far abler than many people thought he is. The situation in South Vietnam is still critical, but not hopeless, by any means. Diem is honest, and while he doesn't always think the way we do, he is doing a good job for his country."

"Then you're more hopeful than was the prevailing attitude in the State Department last winter," said Representative Walter Judd (R., Minn.). Sebald agreed that is so.

"What about all that military equipment we gave the French in Indo-China while they were still fighting the Communists?" asked Representative Edna Kelly (D., N.Y.). "How much was lost to the Reds?"

"The equipment we saved in North Vietnam is ample to fulfill all the requirements of Cambodia and Laos," replied Brigadier General James Wilson, director of the Office of Military Assistance.

"Are the French continuing to give arms and ammunition to those rebels fighting Diem's government?" continued Mrs. Kelly.

"No, not now," said Wilson. "They have stopped that."

"Glad to hear it," declared Mrs. Kelly, "because if they hadn't stopped, I proposed demanding we compel them to quit."

Note: The State Department is so alarmed about increasing Communist activity in British Guiana that it has offered to send teams of U. S. technicians there to improve the standard of living.

Road Builder
Calls For Home Rule

—by H. G. Heller

Under the title of "Time for Action," the "Pennsylvania Road Builder," official monthly publication of the Pennsylvania Home Rule Association, in its current issue editorially stresses the need for immediate enactment of the Home Rule Road Bill by the General Assembly.

The measure, known as House Bill No. 1311, will more than double the allocations from the State Motor Fund, on a permanent basis, to all political subdivisions in the Commonwealth. It also removes the matching provision of the present law which has resulted in a multi-million dollar increase in local road taxes.

In refuting assertions from some quarters that the Cities, Boroughs and Townships are wasteful in administering the funds they now receive from the liquid fuels tax, the "Road Builder" cites the City of Altoona as only one of many examples of how the refunds are judiciously used by local officials to provide road and street improvements.

Altoona, like many other political subdivisions, presently is undertaking one of the most extensive street resurfacing projects in its history. A total of $125,000, most of it from state refunds, is being spent to improve a number of main streets traversed by abandoned streetcar rails.

But, the editorial points out, Altoona and all of the other Cities, Boroughs and Townships in Pennsylvania need additional funds to which they are entitled, and which would be made available to them under provisions of the Home Rule Road Bill.

House Bill No. 1311 provides for a permanent allocation of approximately 25 per cent of the State Motor Fund to all political subdivisions on a mileage-population basis. Half will be earmarked for construction, a provision that will guarantee more road improvements in every City, Borough and Township in the state.

Recalling the promise of the present administration that the Home Rule Road Program would be enacted into law, the editorial concludes:

"The Home Rule Road Bill must be enacted now. The state administration endorsed it and the local officials need it. It will require bi-partisan action to pass the legislation, perhaps, but any Senator or Representative in Harrisburg needs only to sound out the sentiment of local officials and constituents to determine how they stand. Perhaps even that isn't necessary, because officials in hundreds of local political subdivisions have adopted resolutions, not only endorsing the Home Rule Road Program, but urging its immediate enactment.

"It's time for action in Harrisburg. Let's have it!"

Medial Strip Adopted For Erie Turnpike

HARRISBURG, July 13 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission today disclosed the route it proposes to follow in building a 46-mile extension of the state's toll road across Erie County.

The new spur is designed to include a 44-foot medial strip never before used in the Pennsylvania Turnpike system.

"This wide center strip has been recommended by safety experts and we will make a trial of it on this extension," said G. Franklin McSorley, turnpike commission chairman.

The route across Erie County connecting the New York State Thruway and the proposed Ohio Turnpike in that area is part of the T-shaped northwestern extension of the Pennsylvania toll road authorized by the 1953 Legislature session.

Parallels Route 26

Location of the Erie County route was announced as Gov. Leader signed the commission's recommendations which parallel U. S. Route 20.

The extension will run an average of five miles south of the Lake Erie shoreline coming to within one mile at the eastern terminus and within 2½ miles south of the lake on the west end.

The route will pass within 1¼ miles of the southeastern corner of the city of Erie.

McSorley estimated the extension will cost 62 million dollars or 1¼ million a mile.

Recent construction of the 33-mile Delaware River extension and the northeastern extension now under construction has run about two million dollars a mile through more difficult terrain and more valuable property.

Open Late in 1957

Designing the new roadway will start immediately with a tentative target date of Jan. 1 to begin awarding contracts for construction.

The commission chairman estimated the new spur would be opened to the public by late 1957.

The commission will purchase a 200-foot right of way. The road itself will have two 24-foot parallel roadways on either side of the medial strip with a 10-foot shoulder on each side of the road.

The center section will be a "slightly depressed" grass strip. The commission plans no type of barrier along any part of the center strip.

Trial of Medial Strip

"We decided to make a trial of the wide medial strip on this extension because of the favorable level land conditions," McSorley explained.

The commission at present is engaged in surveys to determine the most practical route for building the main stem of the T-shaped northwestern extension.

Two major proposals for this route are along the Beaver Valley and along the Allegheny Valley.

Toll Agency Bill Clears House Group

A BILL to enlarge the membership of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission reached the floor of the House of Representatives in Harrisburg this week after languishing in the Committee on State Government since March 9.

The measure calls for the addition of eight legislators to the 10-member New Jersey-Pennsylvania agency. Four would be named by the New Jersey Legislature and four by the Pennsylvania General Assembly.

In Pennsylvania, the bill states, two would be senators and two members of the House and preference should be given to the legislative representatives from the counties bordering the Delaware River.

The bill was introduced by Reps. Jeanette Reihman (D-Northampton) and Van D. Yetter (D-Monroe). It followed the controversy over the destruction of the Route 46 free bridge near Portland by order of the bridge commission and is designed to give legislators representation on the commission to see that such action shall not be taken in the future.

Mining Activity

No wonder this great '55 Pontiac is setting all-time sales records!

It's bigger, smarter and more powerful than any other car at anything like the price!

A sales success like Pontiac's starts on the drawing boards—with engineers and designers who have been schooled for years in the Pontiac idea of giving more people more car for less money.

With its long 122" or 124" wheelbase and extra, big-car heft, Pontiac provides road-hugging comfort you get in no other car near it in price!

Now take this big, roomy car and surround it with the distinction of Twin-Streak styling and Vogue Two-Toning—beauty that obviously is calling the turn on the future—and you have another reason for Pontiac's phenomenal sales success.

That alone would be enough for most cars—but not for Pontiac!

Pontiac corners the market on value with the most powerful engine within hundreds of dollars of its price. The sensational 200-horsepower

Strato-Streak V-8 with four-barrel carburetor* is the most modern power you can buy. You're on even terms with anything on the road—and you enjoy the greatest economy and dependability in Pontiac history.

If by now you're thinking "This is what I've wanted all along!", we suggest you stop in and talk dollars and cents. That's when you'll get the final reason for Pontiac's record popularity—the fact that you can fit a big, powerful, future-fashioned Pontiac into any new-car budget!

You'll never find it easier to get into the fine-car class than right now! *Low extra cost option

Barrett Cub Pack Meets At Wicks Home

Barrett—Cub Scouts of Troop 89 held a soap box derby at the pack meeting at the home of Den Mother Mary Wicks on Thursday night. Jimmy Brush was the winner. Other games were enjoyed by the Cub Scouts and their parents.

The meeting opened with Greg Krummell in uniform leading the pledge of allegiance. Awards presented to Cubs in Den 2 were Jimmy Brush, Lion badge; Harry McCoy, Bob Cat; Robbie Gravel, Bob Cat. Awards in Den 1 included: Alan Young, denner's badge; Kirby Upright, assistant denner and wolf badge; Bobby Huguennin, bear badge. "Grand Howl Thanks" certificates were given to Leo Smith, den chief, and John Hayes, assistant den chief.

Bobby Rines displayed a wheelbarrow he had made as his project for the month. Theme for June was "Wheels, Wings and Things."

A picnic followed the formal meeting. Attending were Den Mother Mary Wicks and family, Ed Robacker and family, Den Mother Marion Styk and family, Charles Villa, Jules Murraro, Earl Williams, Horace Storm, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sopko and family, assistant den mother, Gladys Cairney and family, Leo Smith and family, Mrs. Harry Rider and son James, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Brush and Jimmy and Millie Brush, Fred Fullmer, Mrs. J. Krummell, Greg Krummell, Mrs. Elinora McCoy, Buddy McCoy, Mrs. Roebeling Gravel, Robbie and Lonnie Gravel, Mrs. Melvin Smith, Robert Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ziegler, Brenda and Paul Zeigler, Mr. and Mrs. George Huguennin, Bobby Hue, George, Mr. and Mrs. Royal Phil, Patti and Bobby Rines, Mr. and Mrs. W. Schleiker, Stephen Schleiker, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McCambridge, Diane and Michael McCambridge, Mrs. Lyle Upright, Kirby and Gail Upright, and Den Chiefs Richard Krummell, Leo Smith and John Hayes.

Pack 89 was recently formed in Barrett Township and the cooperation of the parents with the boys and leaders has been outstanding. A picnic is being planned for the July pack meeting and a bake sale for August. Dates will be announced later.

Members are asked to bring a covered dish, meat for their family and table service. Hostess chairman is Doris Possinger.

Ballet Varies With Country, Teacher Finds

Berlin—More than 31 years ago ballet dancer Tatjana Gsovsky broke her left leg. "I haven't danced since," she says. "But I've been dancing with strange legs, with the legs of others, and I've been a great success."

The same year her leg was broken, the 22-year-old dancer opened a ballet school in Berlin. Since then her fame has spread over Europe. This fall she's touring the United States with 13 West Berlin ballet dancers.

Besides directing her school she does choreography for the West Berlin City Opera, the Bavarian State Opera, and Milan's La Scala. She has worked two seasons in Buenos Aires, and goes back for another season next year.

"She's the greatest choreographer in Germany," says Albert Morini, New York City impresario who arranged for her U. S. tour. "I'm all alone in Germany," the slender, excitable Miss Gsovsky says. "There are ballet teachers here, yes, but everything they knew has been learned from a Russian teacher. I taught many of them myself."

"Germany has no tradition in the ballet. When I came here, I dug up everything like a field and planted some fresh seed. German ballet is different from that of England and Russia, and it suffers from the same thing the German people suffer from—melancholia."

"Art is always like the people of the country. The Spaniards are great dancers because all day long they have to walk on tiptoes—the stones in the street are always so hot!"

"But the Germans were born into damp, dark forests. They had to fight for a living. Their harvests didn't come as easily as they did in Italy, where the people merely had to scratch the ground with a stick."

But why are Russians so often the best ballet dancers? "Very simple," she waves a hand. "I will explain by asking myself these questions: 'Which is better, food or the dance?'"

"The dance!"

"Love or the dance?"

"The dance!"

"And when I'm dying, life or the dance?"

"The dance!"

Doll, Pet Parades For Pocono Carnival

Tannersville—A Pet Parade and a Doll Parade will be featured on two nights of the annual Firemen's Carnival to be held next week at the firehouse in Tannersville.

The Women's Auxiliary of the fire company is sponsoring a pet parade on Monday night, July 18, and the doll parade on Tuesday night. All entries must be at the firehouse by 7 p. m. the night of the respective parade. Prizes will be awarded the winners.

VFW Auxiliary Committees Are Named

Working committees for the year were named at the meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary held Monday night at the VFW Home with the new president, Mrs. Hazel Ellenberger presiding.

Committee chairman Lucille Coyne; hospital, Frances Ransberger; candy and soda, Grace Shook; Cancer, Cecelia Hagerty; bonds, Muriel Hughes; welfare, Lydia Christensen; Sadie Decker and Regina Weller; hospitality, Georgia Albertson; flowers and cards, Sadie Decker; coupons, Ethel Dickison; greeting cards, Marion Bonser; and publicity, Celia Sliptrich.

The auxiliary voted a donation of $25 to the Salvation Army Camp fund. They plan to have an apron booth at the carnival and members are asked to donate aprons. A benefit party was planned for July 20.

Bertha Muir and Grace Shook were presented with the attendance award. It was announced that Stella Metzgar is ill at her home and that cards would be appreciated.

The next auxiliary meeting will be held in the dug-out on August 8.

ITU Picnic Saturday At CLU Park

The annual picnic of Local 943, International Typographical Union will be held on Saturday afternoon at the CLU Memorial Park. The picnic supper, featuring ham, potato salad, baked beans and other picnic fare is scheduled for 5 p. m.

However members and their families will begin assembling at 2 p. m. for swimming, games and contests for the children, and a soft ball game between the day and night side.

George Rung is general chairman of arrangements. He will be assisted by George Spring, Nelson Cramer, Lloyd Snyder, Roy Laize, Mrs. Emily Seaton, Ed Giffels, George Lee, Oliver Wilson, John Welter, Joe Martucci, Howard Strouse, Gus Rhode, Bob Carlton, Richard Versay, and A. Timpan. A committee from the ITU Auxiliary will also assist. Members are asked to bring only their own table service.

The tour opens with a performance in Philadelphia Oct. 4, and ends with shows in New York Dec. 21-22. In between, there will be over 60 dates across the country.

The troupe is to be called "Dance Theater—Berlin."

"If we are accepted," says Miss Gsovsky, "I shall be very happy."

Aux. Gives $1,500 For Fire House

Kunkletown—The Ladies Auxiliary of the Kunkletown Fire Company at their business meeting in the lodge hall Monday night, gave a further demonstration of their progressive community spirit by making a donation of $1,500 to be used toward the completion of the new firehouse and community center.

The Ladies Auxiliary has led the community in fund raising for this project from the start. The building is now well under way to completion. Present plans call for the installation of the upper floor, the stairways and heating system during the summer months and it is anticipated that the structure will be ready for use by late autumn.

At their meeting the ladies made plans for a cakewalk to be held in the Church Grove Saturday, July 23. The rain date for the event will be Sunday, July 24. All the ladies are requested to bring cakes for the cakewalk, as well as contributions for the Fish Pond. Music for the occasion will be furnished by the Ben Salem Band. The committee appointed for the fish pond are: May Christman, Mary Berger and Maizie Balliet. At the meeting the ladies also set the date of September 17 for a penny supper to be held in the church basement.

Three Birthdays Celebrated At Teada Home

Bartonsville—A belated birthday celebration was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Teada on Sunday, July 3, in honor of the June 26 birthdays of their son, Charles, and their granddaughter, Darlene, and the June 27 birthday of their son, Howard. A picnic dinner was served with a birthday cake baked and decorated by Mrs. Howard Teada.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Teada and daughter, Darlene; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lee Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lee Jr. and daughter, Jacqueline, and son, Henry, and Russell Marsh, of Mt. Zion; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Teada and daughter, Ginnie Mae, and son, Chris, of Henryville; and Mr. and Mrs. John Teada and daughter, Carol, of Bartonsville.

Hair Styles Longer, But Not Too Long

By Vivian Brown
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor
Hair stylists are not so dogmatic as they used to be. Time was when they set the styles and you wore them or else. It was the "or else" that finally convinced them that women did not favor assembly-line hairdos. They wore the style they liked. If the hairdresser rebelled at suiting the lady, she coiffed it herself.

Many fashion authorities are pushing for longer hair today but all hair stylists are not going along with the trend. One style chief, Mr. Ruel of Coiffures Americaines, who is said to be responsible for the training of some 4,000 hairdressers who staff their salons, says:

"American women love the convenience of short hair. They demand it for sheer comfort and ease in the summer. Different regions may request variations in styles themselves, but when it comes to length, they are agreed on the shorter look."

Ruel explains that although "the trend is away from the extremely short coiffure, and we go along with a little longer look, we feel that some long hairdos being shown as trends are wrong for the average woman. It takes a young face to stand the down-sweep of a hanging hairdo. It takes more care at home, more time for pin curls, more brushing, more shampooing, more upkeep all around."

He favors the little longer look, and says good-bye to the extreme shorties with their overly slick or overly casual effects.

Says Ruel: "A good length is just long enough to turn up in the back. A young girl should have hair long enough to curl thickly below her ears if she likes. But anything longer than 4½ inches at the sides and the crown and 2½ inches at the nape is definitely too long."

Bangor—Carol Ann Leigh, daughter of Arch Leigh of Bath and Mrs. Jacques Singleton of Bangor RD2 was married on July 9 at 2 p. m. in Christ Reformed Church, Stone Church to Joseph Diorio Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Diorio Sr. of Roseto.

Rev. Stewart Bartner performed the ceremony against an altar set with bouquets of daisies and fern and lighted by candelabra. Dorothy Garris was organist and Miss Charlotte Bach was soloist. She sang "Through the Years," "Because," "At Dawning" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father wore a gown of white lace with a deep scalloped neckline, short sleeves and a waist cummerbund of pleated tulle. The tulle skirt was trimmed with lace and iridescent sequins. A crown of orange blossoms and rhinestones held her fingertip veil. Iridescent sequins trimmed her mits of white lace.

She carried a Bible with white orchids and streamers of daisies. Mrs. Robert Harris was matron of honor. She wore a floor-length gown of white nylon tulle with a bodice shirred to the hip-line. A cluster of white forget-me-nots with streamers of blue tulle decorated the skirt with the blue repeated in her picture hat, jewelry and shoes.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Donald Ascani, and Miss Janice LaBar

wore identical gowns with pink trim and pink picture hats and jewelry. The matron of honor carried a blue reed birdcage with daisies and the bridesmaid carried pink reed bird cages with white daisies.

Miss Donna Mensch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Mensch was flower girl. She wore a white gown with blue picture hat and blue sash and carried a blue basket filled with white daisies. Robert Harris Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harris, was ring-bearer.

Robert Harris of Miller St., Bangor was best man. The ushers were Michael Filengo of Bangor, John Diorio of Roseto, and Floyd Mensch of Bangor RD2.

A reception was held at the Blue Valley Farm Show Building before Mr. and Mrs. Diorio left for a wedding trip to Wildwood, N. J.

Metzgars Mark Golden Wedding

Barrett—Mr. and Mrs. John Metzgar of Canadensis celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary on Monday, July 4. In the afternoon they held open house for more than 50 guests.

They received many gifts and good wishes from friends and relatives.

Around The Stroudsburgs

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Spencer, 255 Washington St., East Stroudsburg, yesterday celebrated their 21st wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Alison M. Waun and sons, Stephen and Billy, of Yale, Michigan, are spending a summer vacation with Mrs. Waun's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dale H. Learn, of Monroe Hills on the Paradise Trail. Mrs. Waun is the former Alison M. Learn, and her husband is the Rev. G. G. Waun of Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Townsend Tittle and daughter Pamela and Mrs. Ruth Zettlemoyer and daughter, Ruth Ann, all of Huston Ave., Stroudsburg, left at 7 a. m. Tuesday for a vacation trip through New England. The vacationers will spend most of their time in Cape Cod and in Nova Scotia.

The bridegroom, who served two years in the Army is co-owner of Diorio Brothers Tire Service.

One thing is certain, Alberta Yutz will never forget her last wedding anniversary. It fell on Sunday a week ago, and it wasn't the only thing that fell—that was the tragedy of it.

Alberta, Herb and their daughter Kay (to say nothing of Kay's white mouse and other assorted pets) had just moved into their newly re-built home. (If you recall, the Yutz home had been almost totally gutted by fire last December.) The new residence was shiny, beautiful, and as pretty an anniversary present as any woman could hope to have. Alberta spent most of the day getting settled.

It was mid-afternoon when the family decided to go out for dinner... and then it happened. In some mysterious way someone bumped into a ladder in the kitchen and down went a gallon of varnish—all over the spotless, newly tiled floor.

Any woman who has ever tried to mop up a cupful of maple syrup will have a deep and horrible appreciation of Alberta's problem with a gallon of varnish. It was, she admits, pretty awful. But there was a bright side too... every bit of the goo came up, leaving the kitchen as lovely as before.

Of course, as Alberta happily points out, hers is Excelon tile from Wyckoff's, which is why it cleaned so very well. Had it been any ordinary tile, chances are the newness of the floor would have completely vanished with the varnish.

Comes by mail a big picture of a very pretty young woman in two poses. In one she is looking sleek and smart in a lace-trimmed, ribbon bowed half slip and a wide-strap Cinderella bra by Exquisite Form. In the adjacent pose one sees how smoothly and beautifully her skirt and plunge-neck blouse fit over these garments. Particular emphasis is on the bustline, of course.

The Cinderella bra, which we sell in our corset department, is an ever-so-slightly padded foam rubber half-bra, especially designed for the decollete dress which permits strapped support. One of its most desirable features is the new "ribbon wire" which defines contour and separation, but is so flexible one never realizes she is "wired for glamour."

Seems to me that if a girl can't break away from the hearth with this flattering Cinderella style, she's just doomed to a pumpkin existence forever and ever. This bra is one "cinder" that really fills the bill as an eye-filler.

Don't know what the manufacturer calls 'em, but I've named them Perry Pixie and Cathy Calico—meaning the delightful dancing dolls in our toy department. Taller than most of the kiddies who'll adore them, these well-made stuffed rag dolls have plastic faces. Cathy has yarn hair. Elastics attached to their soles, slide over a child's shoes so the two may dance together. Perry and Cathy are 2.98 each... unless you want Cathy with braids. Then she's 3.98. Okay darlings—how about the next mambo?

Miss DePue, R. H. Williams Are Married

Mount Pocono—Keeokee Chapel, Paradise Valley, was the scene of the pretty summer wedding of Miss Betty Jane DePue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. DePue of Mount Pocono on Saturday at 2 p. m., when she became the bride of Ralph Henry Williams, son of Wilton Williams and the late Mrs. Laura Williams of Skytop.

Rev. Elmer Bender of Egg Harbor, N. J., uncle of the bridegroom, performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. Charles Spangenberg, pastor of Keeokee Chapel. Mrs. Clyde White of Stroudsburg was organist, and Miss Gail Young, cousin of the bride, was soloist.

The chapel was decorated with rhododendron, roses and delphinium. The pews were graced with white satin bows twined with ivy.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white length gown of imported French lace and ruffled nylon tulle over satin, featuring a fitted bodice and high neckline. She carried a white Bible topped by a white orchid and streamers of baby breath.

Her veil, finger-tip length, of nylon tulle was arranged from a crown of rhinestones and seed pearls.

Miss Kathleen DePue, sister of the bride, was maid-of-honor. She wore a white-length gown of blue nylon net over tulle and carried a colonial bouquet. Miss Nancy DePue, also a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and wore a gown of yellow nylon tulle, in white-length, and carried a colonial bouquet. Miss Imogene DePue, cousin of the bride, in pink nylon tulle, and Miss Gloria Bush in aqua tulle were the other bridesmaids. They all wore flowered head pieces to match their gowns.

Lillian Mae Gross of Mount Pocono as flower girl wore a gown of white nylon net over satin and carried a basket of roses and baby breath.

Charles DePue Jr., brother of the bride was ring bearer.

Roy Williams served as his brother's best man, and the ushers were Paul Williams, another brother of the bridegroom, and Edward Price, of Cresco.

The bride's mother wore a dress of blue silk pongee with white accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

A reception was held for about 100 guests at the East Swift-water Hall where the bride's table featured a five-tier wedding cake baked by Mrs. Clyde White.

For going away, the bride wore a coral suit and a white orchid corsage.

They are both graduates of Barrett High School. Mrs. Williams is employed as cashier at the PP&L office in Stroudsburg. Mr. Williams is employed at Skytop.

The Chipperettes 4-H Club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Joan Hester, Chipperfield Drive, with all members present. In addition to the work period under the direction of Miss Margaret MacLaren, the members enjoyed games and songs and refreshments.

They will meet next Tuesday at the home of Kathy Ayers. Present were Joan Hester, Diane Colvin, Jane Layton, Sharron Fabel, Gloria Jean Walters, Kathy Ayers and Cheryl Smith. Mrs. George Colvin is local leader.

Society Of 28th Family Picnic

Gateway Post 36 and Auxiliary of the Society of the 28th Division will hold a picnic meeting at Mader's Grove on Sunday, July 17, at 1 p. m.

Members are asked to bring a covered dish, meat for their family and table service. Hostess chairman is Doris Possinger.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

When the wedding season is in full swing, it often seems as if the social desk typewriter ought to be able to type the story of its own accord. The names are different but the procedure is the same, you think.

Actually, even after all the June weddings that clustered so thick, each wedding has its own individual touch. Recently I've noticed a trend to the fanciful in the attendants' bouquets. Red bird cages swung from the wrist and filled with flowers, for instance.

Or the one last week where they carried floral parasols. Or the one before that where they flourished fans of flowers.

Fashions in flowers vary as much as in clothes it seems. The vines and bold green leaves that are worked into modern decor are a far cry from the "house plants" that used to fill the farm house windows so full that even in dead winter the rooms were filled with a green light.

And while man-made (or more likely these days women-made) gardens change, the field flowers are always in fashion—and this is the season for them, too—brown-eyed susans and daisies and butter-and-eggs.

Speaking of flowers, our goal is particularly fond of phlox, and quite a sight she makes, too, with the purple variety sticking out of one side of her mouth, jaunty as anything. Doubt if it's a style that will be adopted for weddings, but Carmen carries the rose in her teeth, doesn't she?

Hartmans To Mark 20th Anniversary

Bartonsville—Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hartman will celebrate their twentieth wedding anniversary on Sunday, July 17. Mrs. Hartman is the former Keturah Metzgar, of Arlington Heights, Metzgar, of Arlington Heights and the late Jesse Metzgar. The Hartmans have two daughters, Beverly and Donna Lee.

Mrs. Burnett is the former Barbara Howey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Howey and niece of Mrs. Edwin Hines, East Stroudsburg.

RILEY

Sports Editor

STROUDSBURG Little League has a reason for not taking part in the state-wide Pennsylvania Little League playoffs this season, and although this reporter doesn't agree with their reasoning, it is only fair that the local circuit's judgement is made public today. Sam Everitt, who made the anti-playoff motion, informed this reporter of his judgement in a recent conversation. Everitt is also manager of the Peoples Coal Co. team.

It was the belief of Everitt and other officials of the circuit that the selection of an All-Star team came entirely too early in the season and that a lot of good players were missed in the shuffle. It is also Sam's contention that the youngsters not named to the All-Star squad come up with a "left out" feeling and that the remainder of the regular season race is never a success. The decision not to take part in the playoffs this year came by a unanimous vote of all officials involved.

Sam's reasoning is excellent, but it is this reporter's contention that if other leagues can take part in the playoffs and then finish successful campaigns, there's no reason why Stroudsburg can't do the same thing. But, this column certainly is glad that Stroudsburg officials took time out to discuss the matter and to act in what they thought the best manner under current conditions. It is impossible to find serious fault with actions of this type. It is refreshing to find a group of men with the best interests of the kids at heart.

Many Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg fans, interested in Babe Ruth League baseball were in the crowd watching last night's playoff between the Slate Belt and Dunmore Babe Ruth Leagues. This was the first playoff game of its kind ever played under the lights in this area. Chet Gross, well known basketball official in Monroe County, is out of the hospital and well on the road to recovery after a bout with an ailing back.

Mount Pocono was recently awarded a protest victory over Barrett Lions in the Pocono Little League and the circuit action has completely changed the standings as of this date. A regular schedule for umpires has been set up for the balance of the Pocono Little League campaign. Johnny Logan, Milwaukee shortstop, who held down the same position for a portion of Tuesday's game for the National League, used to be a visitor in Stroudsburg. Logan was one of the big guns in the National League victory over the American League, by a 6-5 count.

The catch Willie Mays made on Ted Williams' bid for a home run was the turning point of Tuesday's game. If Mays had pulled down Ted's towering shot to right center field it would have gone into the stands and the American League would have enjoyed a 7-0 advantage instead of a 5-0 edge and would have been out of reach in the late innings, when Boston's Frank Sullivan relieved New York's "Whitey" Ford, who was having one of his poorest days in the past two seasons.

The winner of last night's Slate Belt-Dunmore Babe Ruth League playoff will tangle with Tanawaka for the District Two championship. Tanawaka moved into the final round recently by defeating Hazleton, 15-9, at Hazleton. Bangor, Pocono and East Stroudsburg Little Leagues will be represented at today's Little League Tournament meeting at the Monroe County YMCA. The gathering is slated to take place at 7:30 p. m.

One addition that this reporter would like to see made to the new Pennsylvania Boxing Code is an entirely different manner of awarding licenses to various ring officials. Right now it's a horrible racket, where the small guy gets burned time after time. Otherwise the new code appears adequate, providing the proper authorities enforce the rulings. Changes have been made in the past, and failed. Enforcement of the code, and enforcement alone, is the key to success.

Portland lost a true baseball fan when Ralph DeVivo passed away recently. Baseball was one of his true loves. It is this scribe's contention that at least two big major league deals will be made next winter. One will involve Curt Simmons, left handed hurler for the Phillies, and the other will feature Eddie Yost, highly regarded third baseman for the Washington Senators. They both should bring plenty of money or talent to their present clubs.

Strouds Turn Portland Into 12th Bi-State Victim, 10-1

Sommers Helps Owns Cause With Homer

STROUDS SCORED in all but one inning last night while rolling to their 12th victory in 13 Bi-State League baseball outings with a 10-1 verdict over Portland. The contest was played at Gorton Giffels Field.

Bill Sommers, who made his baseball mark at East Stroudsburg High School last spring, scattered five hits over the route as he kept the Strouds four full lengths in front of the field.

Portland bunched two of its hits in the first frame to score its lone run. Harold "Fain" Staples opened with a single, but was forced at second by Harry Bellis. Bellis raced home on a triple by Don Tucker. After that the young right hander was in complete control.

The Strouds got rolling in the second when Danny Eppley blasted a double to left and Dick Gray tripled to right center. Gray crossed the plate a moment later on a squeeze bunt by John Whitehead.

Ronnie Hallett gave up another counter in the third when Dave Nevil walked, stole second and scored on a single by Randy Morris. Eppley followed with another double, but the home team was unable to score further.

Big Blow
Sommers struck a blow in his own behalf in the third when he lashed a home run into the left field bleachers after Don Endy had doubled to right center.

A single by Nevil, a double by Morris and Eppley's squeeze bunt gave the home standing charges of Manager Frank Radler their sixth run of the ball game.

The Strouds put the contest on ice with four markers in the bottom of the sixth. Endy opened with a walk and raced to third on a double to left by Sommers. Ted Yuhus singled Endy home and Paul "Doc" Lim followed with a double to plate both Sommers and Yuhus. Lim stole third and tallied on an infield roller by Eppley, after Morris drew a walk and stole second.

The Strouds lashed out 11 hits in rolling to victory.

Sommers struck out eight batters and didn't give up a single walk.

The Strouds return to Giffels Field for action on Sunday, with Blairstown providing the opposition at 2:30 p. m.

Dickinson Changes Staff

CARLISLE, Pa., July 13 (P)—Dickinson College today announced the appointment of David B. Eavenson as new athletic director and Brinton C. Piez as football coach.

At the same time Joseph G. DuCharme, head coach of football and basketball at Wyoming Seminary since 1951, was named Dickinson basketball coach.

Eavenson has been director of athletics at Wyoming Seminary since 1951 also, having coached four sports during a total of 10 years at the Kingston, Pa., institution.

Experience
Piez, a former Temple University griddier, has been football coach at Upper Iowa University for the past three years. He will serve also as assistant basketball coach at Dickinson while DuCharme will aid Piez with football.

The new Dickinson coaches succeed A. C. "Slim" Ransom, who resigned in April after three years as head football and basketball mentor and athletic director; Lindy Lauro, and John S. Steckbeck.

Piez is a Norristown native.

Norfolk To Quit League

NORFOLK, Va., July 13 (P)—The Norfolk Tars baseball team of the Class B Piedmont League will cease operations after tonight's game, the club's management announced today.

Dr. S. E. Hughes, Tars' president, said the club will not make the scheduled road trip to Hagerstown, Md., tomorrow.

Dr. Hughes said the team has had losses of $500 to $1,000 each day.

Ferris Fain

Indians To Sign Fain As Flag Insurance

CLEVELAND, July 13 (P)—The Cleveland Indians announced today that Ferris Fain, veteran first baseman, would be signed as a free agent.

Fain's signature is not yet on a contract, an Indians spokesman said, because the Tribe has not designated who will leave the squad to make room for him.

However Fain, 33, is now in Cleveland and may be wearing an Indians' uniform by tomorrow night, when the Tribe goes against the league-leading New York Yankees.

Average
With a lifetime batting average of .291, Fain led American League batting in 1951 and 1952.

Fain was batting .264 when the Detroit Tigers released him this season. A leg operation laid him up last July.

A veteran of three American League All-Star teams—in 1950, 1951 and 1952—Fain started in the league with the old Philadelphia Athletics in the fall of 1946 and later went to the Chicago White Sox, who traded him to Detroit last winter.

Pocono Little League Names Squad For Playoff Encounters

CANADENSIS—Pocono Little League is ready to launch the district Little League playoffs on Monday, following selection of its All-Star team. It was announced last night by Frank Thomas, loop president.

The All-Star contingent is made up of Lou Kinney, Marty Brennan, Dick Schoch and Monty Strong. Mount Pocono; Ralph Dunlap, Gerald Keiper, Bruce Franks, John Franks and Danny Woehrie, Pocono Lions; Larry Johnson, Carl "Butch" Beseker and Glenn Kane, Tannersville; Sam Jones, Barrett Rotary, and Calvin Davis, Tobyhanna.

Barrett Lions is the only team not represented on the All-Star squad.

Managers
Jim "Cocky" Wilson, Pocono Lions, was named manager of the club, while Harry Werkheiser, Tannersville, is assistant manager.

The Pocono Little League All-Stars will practice tomorrow, at 6:30 p. m., on the Tobyhanna Township High field in Pocono Pines. Each boy is asked to bring his birth certificate to the practice session.

Three regular season games will be played today. Barrett Rotary and Barrett Lions will clash at Mountainhome's Siglin Field, while Tannersville and Mount Pocono are listed for action at Mount Pocono. Tobyhanna and Pocono Lions will tangle at Pocono Pines, on the Tobyhanna Township High field. Each tussle is listed for 6:15 p. m.

Chadwick Changes Plans

DOVER, England, July 13 (P)—A heavy fog forced a postponement today of Florence Chadwick's attempt to make an unprecedented round trip swim of the English Channel.

The 33-year-old San Diego, Calif., secretary said she would try again tomorrow. Weather conditions are expected to be more favorable.

Record
Miss Chadwick already holds the women's record for channel swims in both directions. In 1950 she swam from France to England in 12 hours, 29 minutes. In 1953 she swam from England to France in 14 hours, 42 minutes.

Orioles Bring Brown Back To Majors

BALTIMORE, July 13 (P)—Baltimore Orioles General Manager Paul Richards announced today the club has bought the contract of Hector Harold Brown, righthanded pitcher who has been in and out of the major leagues since 1951, for an undisclosed sum of money.

Brown had a 9-2 record with Oakland of the Pacific Coast League this season, and a 2.95 earned run average.

Two Sox
He broke into the majors in 1951 with the Chicago White Sox, was farmed to Seattle, then was back in Chicago for the 1952 season. Traded to Boston, he had an 11-6 record with the Red Sox in 1953, a 1-8 score last year, and was sent to Oakland this year.

Little League Meeting

A DISTRICT Four Little League Tournament Committee meeting will be held at the Monroe County YMCA today at 7:30 p. m. East Stroudsburg, Pocono and Bangor Little Leagues are to be represented.

Bangor Little League Lists All-Star Team For Playoffs

BANGOR—Bangor Little League has announced its 14-man All-Star baseball team to take part in the annual district playoffs beginning on Monday. The selections were made on Tuesday night.

The All-Star roster includes Ralph Lopardo and Bobby Dawe, First Ward; Steve Bisher, Alexander Kristof, Kenneth Smith and Al Staples, Second Ward; Anthony Caraccio, Jack Falcone, Frank Falcone, Louis Joella and Ronnie Viglione, Fourth Ward, and Isidore DeThomas, Salvatore Molle and Dick Muehlen, Kiwanis-Exchange.

Bill Scott was selected as manager and Clyde Grigg, coach. The Bangor Little League squad held a practice session at Memorial Park last night.

Tuesday's meeting was held at the office of the T and R Paving Co., with Louis Trigliani, circuit president, in charge.

Trip

Final arrangements were also made for the annual outing at the meeting. The trip will be made on Saturday and over 100 boys will witness the Philadelphia Phillies and Chicago Cubs in action in Philadelphia. Funds were raised during a recent Tag Day.

Chaperones for the trip will include Blaine Holland, Sherwood Holland, Scott, Russell Bisher, Melbourne Lobb, Granville Evans, Frank Castone, Frank Falcone, Iridis Williams, Charley Eden, Earl Menhennitt and Trigliani.

Three chartered busses have been engaged for the trip and will leave from the high school building at 9 a. m. All players are asked to be present by 8:30 a. m. Those making the trip will carry lunches and will be provided with dinners on the return trip.

Pirates Ink High School Star

PITTSBURGH, July 13 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates today signed Larry Stubing, 17, of Evander Childs High School, Bronx, N. Y., and said he will report to their Class D Brunswick, Ga., farm club next season.

Stubing starred in football, basketball and baseball in high school. He played first base on the high school baseball team and had a batting average of .350 for three seasons. He is a left-handed batter and fielder.

Chevrolet's got # a new honey of a hardtop

...with a lower-than-ever price tag!

Maybe you've had a yen for a hardtop but couldn't quite squeeze it into your budget. If so, this baby's for you! It's the hardtop as only Chevrolet builds it. Long, low and plenty saucy, like its convertible cousin. It's an honest-to-goodness hardtop, too—no center pillars when you roll down the windows. Nothing but fresh air and a picture-window view. Best of all, this big, beautiful "Two-Ten" Sport Coupe is priced right down with the two-door sedans in Chevrolet's field. It lists for less than any other leading hardtop sold today. Come in and see what a walloping bargain it is.

Playschool Enrolls Tots 3-5 Years

THE POCONO Playschool Co-operative, one of the group provided with proper space for its program by the YMCA directors this week, is a pre-school educational operation for children three to five years old.

It functions under approval of the Department of Public Instruction and is bound by the regulations of that department.

One of these, for instance, is a limitation of not more than 15 children per teacher.

The parent organizers of the Pocono Playschool said yesterday that limit has been already met for the first school starting this fall.

The playschool-type of operation functions in many communities for the purpose of giving pre-school children social experience in school routine and to provide them with a knowledge of fundamentals which will further their progress when they start school in kindergarten or first grade.

In 1939, the average North Carolina factory wage earner worked about 21 minutes for a quart of milk compared with 12 minutes today.

Net Income Up

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—Net income in April this year for natural gas pipeline companies was $18,766,583, up 24.4 per cent from the April 1954 net of $15,072,939, the Federal Power Commission reported.

'Three Men' Wins Plaudits At Bushkill

THE PLAY at the Bushkill Playhouse this week is "Three Men On A Horse" by George Abbott and John Cecil Holms.

Michael Murtagh as the mild-mannered Erwin Trowbridge not only did an excellent job picking horses, but also performed with the same accuracy.

Rosemary Torri as the "slightly faded chorus girl" Mabel, gave a performance that was so believable one could almost hear the beating of the drums as she gave Erwin a sample of her ability in her former profession.

Patsy, the sharpest of the track habitues who wants to cash-in on Erwin's ability to always pick winners, is convincingly played by Victor Kuring. Other members of this triumvirate that's plaguing Erwin are Frank Perich as Charlie and Robert Owens as Frankie.

Frank Miller played the role of Harry, the bartender who knows a sure thing when he sees it, with gusto. Betty Furia played well the role of Erwin's harassed wife. Warren Eshback as Erwin's boss and Harry Holderman as Clarence, Erwin's brother-in-law complete the cast of the well-presented play. George Robert Allen, assistant producer, directed the production.

The Playhouse is located on the grounds of Bushkill Manor on Route 209. Curtain time is 8:30.

Plane Spotter Organization 3 Years Old

COLORADO SPRINGS, July 13 (AP)—Operation Skywatch expands into a nationwide organization on its third anniversary tomorrow.

Skywatch operates through half a million airplane spotters who scan the skies for unidentified — and possibly hostile — aircraft.

They compose the Ground Observers Corps, a part of the Continental Air Defense Command which has its headquarters here.

The command announced that on its third anniversary GOC becomes national by expansion into the 12 south central states — Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Utah and Arizona.

Million Volunteers GOC says that to do its job on a nationwide basis it will require more than a million volunteers to man the 24,000 ground observer posts and 73 filter centers it is scheduled to have. The filter centers relay the individual aircraft sighting reports to the proper headquarters.

Air Force Gen. Benjamin W. Chidlaw, recently retired CADC commander, has called GOC the potential trigger of the entire U.S. defensive and offensive weapons system, because a sky scanner instead of a radar station may well presently holds the state and national VFW championships and state American Legion championship.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

THURSDAY, JULY 14

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—No dilly-dallying or throwing away valuable time and effort on useless matters now. Avoid stubbornness and don't take too much for granted. Stay along; there will be greater impetus as the day unfolds.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Some unusual indications for alert and eager Taurians. To be in the running you can't sit back and wait for things to happen, however. The do-er anticipates needs.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Favorable prospects for you who maintain a steady, consistent tempo and forge ahead honestly and willingly. Occupational interests should advance.

June 22 to July 22 (Cancer)—The aspects especially favor those with a determination to help themselves. Advertising, new ideas, artistic matters highly favored. P. M. sponsors heart, and family interests.

July 23 to August 22 (Leo)—You can do an excellent job now—probably your best between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Professional interests and matters requiring expert mental handling should prosper.

August 23 to September 22 (Virgo)—Take personal stock: Are you getting full benefits from effort expended? Even in little ways, can you not improve your tactics? Check thoroughly.

September 23 to October 22 (Libra)—A very good period for those of you who are willing to do extra work, to forget personal fun and desires and apply yourselves energetically to tasks. In such case, the aspects favor quick gains, greater rewards, new achievements.

October 23 to November 22 (Scorpio)—With alacrity and alertness — and without straining — you can weather any squalls and strike out for new gains. Money, real estate highly favored. To those engaged in industry and research: full speed ahead! November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—If you would finish the day on the credit side, prod yourself into taking the initiative and do be consistent. Results will be worthwhile if you are open-minded, ready and smiling.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Generally favorable. To those born after Jan. 4th: You can come through with flying colors. It's that extra vigor that does it. You born before Jan. 5: Watch investments. Be careful about long-term obligations.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Some things may hang in the balance now. Careful thinking leads to sound action. Be a little skeptical but never pessimistic. Devise ways to bring greater rewards, if any.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Arouse yourself to your highest level; many things are possible now; a good outlook all round. That certain modest but efficient quality you have may be the wonder-worker now.

YOU BORN TODAY are innately versatile, artistic, sometimes changeable. You are imaginative, creative, fond of travel, also devoted to home and loved ones. You could be an excellent nurse, doctor, lawyer, salesman, actor, writer; are a loyal friend and business partner. Take things in stride and do not anticipate trouble. Do not be argumentative. Pray daily; look hopefully ahead. Birthdate of John Lockhart, Scottish writer, editor.

There's nothing like a SUNBEAM SOUP-SANDWICH

For the energy we all need there's nothing like a Sunbeam Soup-Sandwich

Take a tip from a busy man. There's no quicker — more enjoyable lunch than a piping hot bowl of your favorite soup served with two slices of Sunbeam Bread. That's a Sunbeam Soup-Sandwich — and that's a good lunch.

Sunbeam at the mid-day meal provides dependable energy for the active hours ahead. At the same time, every tempting slice gives you — gives all the family — the vitamins and minerals they need to stay strong and well.

Serve a Sunbeam Soup-Sandwich for lunch. It's a good meal — so deliciously nutritious for all your family. The best way to make sure they always get the hot dish in every meal nutritional experts recommend. Serve it soon — serve it often.

For A "Specially Good Lunchtime Treat"

DELICIOUS SUNBEAM SOUP-SANDWICH

Heat your favorite soup — smooth, satisfying cream soups, hearty vegetable soup or chowder. Serve hot with fresh, delicious slices of Sunbeam and a spread. In a jiffy lunch is ready — what a lunch! Nutritionally sound, delicious, and always a welcome treat.

Litts Announces Examinations To Be Given August 16, 17, 18

HIGH SCHOOL EQUIVALENT and pre-professional examinations will be given Aug. 16, 17 and 18 at State Teachers College in East Stroudsburg.

Information released yesterday by the office of John C. Litts, county superintendent of schools, listed the dates and announced that the deadline for submitting applications to take the tests is July 20.

The examinations are intended to allow those who are not attending a secondary school or have not graduated from an approved four-year secondary school to secure equivalent high school credit.

To take the tests all examinees must present an admission card and a vouched photograph to the examiner in each period. Application for admission cards must be made by mail to the Department of Public Instruction in Harris-

Second Biggest Crop Output Due To Be Harvested

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—The Agriculture Department said yesterday total crop production this year promises to be the second highest on record.

Contained in the envelope with the application must be an identification card, two vouched photographs, an enrollment blank (securable from the county superintendent's office) and a check or money order for two dollars for the enrollment fee.

The department based its forecast upon conditions prevailing July 1 and took into account sharp cutbacks in some products—principally cotton and wheat—under rigid production controls.

Livestock feed grain production will be greatly increased over last year by near-record crops of corn and oats, a record crop of barley and a sorghum crop which has record possibilities.

The department said there will be less food grains harvested than last year—also less tobacco, sugar crops, dry peas and hops.

Fruits are expected to be adequate in the long run despite seasonal differences from normal supplies.

The department said more vegetables will be available for fresh market but less for processing than last year.

Sharp Break In Market Drops Prices

NEW YORK, July 13 (AP)—After failing in a try at higher prices, the stock market today turned around and fell away sharply. Losses were widespread and went into every major division of the market. The selling pace increased as prices dropped back, but there was no undue pressure in evidence.

The fall carried prices down 1 to around 3 points and considerably more in the case of higher priced issues. The market has been going up with unusual vigor in recent weeks without a reaction of any moment. Three times this year there have been normal reactions, and each time the market has advanced with greater strength than before. Brokers for many days have been looking for signs of the year's fourth reaction. A severe drop last Thursday gave some evidence of the willingness of stockholders to part with their shares when faced with a retreat in prices. Today's fall wasn't as sharp as Thursday's.

Average Dips $1.80
The Associated Press average of 60 stocks today declined $1.80 to $173.40. It was off 10 cents yesterday and $2.30 last Thursday.

The industrial component of the average fell $3.50, railroads declined $1.30, while the utilities gained 10 cents at a new high since 1931 at $74.60. American Telephone is in the utility component.

The market narrowed down to 1,142 individual issues traded of which 288 were up and 689 down. Thirty-three stocks touched new highs for the year during the session while 17 hit new lows.

Volume amounted to 2,360,000 shares as compared with 2,630,000 shares yesterday.

The American Stock Exchange was mostly lower on volume of 800,000 shares. That was 20,000 less than yesterday.

The bond market was steady. U. S. government issues over the counter were firm.

Matusow Is Indicted On Six Counts

NEW YORK, July 13 (AP)—A federal grand jury today indicted turnabout witness Harvey Matusow on six counts of perjury.

The charges grew out of Matusow's accusation that Roy M. Cohn former assistant U. S. attorney here, had induced Matusow to give false testimony at the 1952 conspiracy trial of 13 second-string Communist leaders.

Cohn also formerly was counsel to the Senate Permanent Investigations subcommittee once headed by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Mamie To Visit Namesake Lake

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP)—Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower will see the lake for which she was named when she accompanies the President to the Big Four conference in Geneva this weekend. The First Lady was christened Mamie Geneva Doud because her mother, Mrs. John Sheldon Doud was fond of a song, "Lovely Lake Geneva," glorifying the lake on which the Swiss capital is located.
